Scenario

A.P. is an 8-year-old who is sent to the nurse's office because she has had a several-day history of scratch- ing her head so badly that she complains that her "head hurts." You complete a general examination of A.P.'s head and notice that she has red, irritated areas with several scratch marks; a few open sores; and sesame seed-sized, silvery white and yellow nodules (bugs) that are adhered to many of her hair shafts. You determine that A.P. has pediculosis capitis.

1. What is pediculosis capitis?
2. What will be your next steps in A.P.'s care?
3. What should be included in the educational plans for A.P. and her parents?
