Linking the PARCC Assessments to NWEA MAP Tests for Illinois Northwest Evaluation Association, 2016

Northwest Evaluation Association NWEA is committed to providing partners with useful tools to help make inferences from the Measures of Academic Progress MAP interim assessment scores One important tool is the concordance table between MAP and state summative assessments Concordance tables have been used for decades to relate scores on different tests measuring similar but distinct constructs These tables typically derived from statistical linking procedures provide a direct link between scores on different tests and serve various purposes Aside from describing how a score on one test relates to performance on another test they can also be used to identify benchmark scores on one test corresponding to performance categories on another test or to maintain continuity of scores on a test after the test is redesigned or changed Concordance tables are helpful for educators parents administrators researchers and policy makers to evaluate and formulate academic standing and growth Recently NWEA completed a concordance study to connect the scales of the Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers PARCC English language arts ELA and math with those of the MAP Reading and MAP for Mathematics assessments for Illinois IL In this report presented are the 3rd through 8th grade cut scores on MAP reading and mathematics scales that correspond to the benchmarks that Illinois adopted for its PARCC ELA and math tests

Information about the consistency rate of classification based on the estimated MAP cut scores is also provided along with a series of tables that predict the probability of receiving a Level 4 i e Proficient or higher performance designation on the PARCC assessments based on the observed MAP scores taken during the same school year A detailed description of the data and analysis method used in this study is provided in the appendix Same as It Never Was Gregory Michie, 2019-08-16

After a decade as an education professor Greg Michie decided to return to his teaching roots He went back to the same Chicago neighborhood the same public school and the same grade level and subject he taught in the 1990s But much had changed both in schools and in the world outside them Same As It Never Was chronicles Michie's efforts to navigate the new realities of public schooling while also trying to rediscover himself as a teacher Against a backdrop of teacher strikes and anti testing protests the movement for Black lives and the deepening of anti immigrant sentiment this book invites readers into an award winning teacher's classroom as he struggles to teach toward equity and justice in a time where both are elusive for too many children in our nation's schools Book Features A follow up to the author's bestseller Holler If You Hear Me a long time staple in teacher education programs An examination of current issues such as the importance of teacher unions anti racist culturally relevant teaching resistance to standardized testing teacher evaluation and the political nature of teaching A rare memoir of a professor returning to public school teaching that will inform and inspire a broad audience Proficiency

Guidance on New State Summative Assessments from NWEA. Northwest Evaluation Association, 2015 Measures of Academic Progress MAP computer adaptive interim assessments serve many purposes from informing instruction to identifying students for intervention to projecting proficiency on state accountability assessments To make sure its flagship product does the latter Northwest Evaluation Association NWEA routinely conducts studies that provide estimates of how MAP RIT scores correspond to proficient and other performance levels on summative state accountability assessments These studies provide schools and districts using MAP assessments with tools to predict whether students will demonstrate adequate reading and mathematics achievement on their state accountability assessments and allow them to adjust instructional plans accordingly In recent months many school districts have requested that NWEA provide similar studies to estimate how MAP RIT scores correspond to college and career readiness as it will be measured by various tests These include the two upcoming Common Core consortia tests Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium Smarter Balanced and Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers PARCC as well as other non consortia tests aligned to the Common Core standards To be clear NWEA will conduct new studies However Smarter Balanced and PARCC have not yet finalized their proficiency level cut scores Smarter Balanced did release preliminary threshold scale scores in November of 2014 but final cut score values will not be verified and adopted for either assessment until the summer of 2015 PARCC timeline Smarter Balanced timeline This information is critical in conducting a linking study since students observed scores on both tests are examined to understand how one test predicts performance on the other While nobody currently knows what college and career readiness scores on PARCC will eventually be we can make educated guesses and some states have already done so New York Illinois and Kentucky have all implemented changes in their state proficiency benchmarks in anticipation of more rigorous standards Furthermore the preliminary threshold scale scores released by Smarter Balanced may provide additional insight into what college readiness might look like on PARCC once its performance standards have been set These studies provide a preliminary indication of what college and career readiness may look like for MAP users in other states that align their tests to new standards But the question remains What can school districts that use MAP RIT scores do right now to understand whether students are on track to meet college and career readiness performance standards One approach is to use cut scores that do currently exist from the New York Illinois and Kentucky tests or from the initial estimates for Smarter Balanced and relate them to MAP RIT cut scores It s important to note that these state cut scores will not coincide precisely with the college and career readiness values that PARCC or other states will eventually adopt but they may provide a guide during the interim The tables and figures shown in the appendix may be used as rough guidelines The values presented here simply represent an educated guess about what those benchmarks might look like given that other assessments have defined college readiness similarly As soon as the new cut scores and performance levels are finalized NWEA will conduct studies that directly examine the ability of MAP to predict performance on those tests Contained in the appendix are links used in this document

Assessing Changes in the Projected NWEA RIT Scale Cut Scores for the 2002 and 2004 Study of Alignment with the Palmetto Achievement Challenge Tests John

Cronin, Martha McCall, 2004 Northwest Evaluation Association regularly conducts studies of alignment between the RIT scale and the scales used for statewide achievement tests. In recent years educational experts have put increasing emphasis on the need for triangulation of student achievement information in order to assure that important educational decisions are based on data that is robust and corroborated. Indeed many school systems use NWEA assessments as one way in which they triangulate data from their state assessment and other tests that may be in use in their district. The catalyst for this investigation was completion of a recent study to confirm and monitor the alignment between the PACT and NWEA assessments. Cronin 2004. For the most part it was found that the two assessments remained closely correlated and that NWEA results predicted PACT status reasonably well. Nevertheless it was also found that performance level estimates at a few grades showed large changes and that the predictive accuracy statistics stemming from the 2004 study were both lower than those generated from the 2002 study and also lower than those gathered from most of the other state studies. Contains 12 tables.

Aligning the NWEA RIT Scale with the Maine Educational Assessments (MEA) John Cronin, 2004. Recently Northwest Evaluation Association NWEA completed a project to connect the scale of the MEA with NWEA's RIT scale. Six Maine school systems participated in the study using test information from a group of over 800 students enrolled in fourth and eighth grade who took both the MEA and NWEA reading and mathematics tests in the spring of 2004. Information from these tests was used in a comprehensive study to identify the capacity of the RIT scale to predict success on the MEA and to identify performance level scores on the RIT scale that would indicate a good chance of success on this test. Three methodologies: linear regression, second order regression, and Rasch status on standards called Rasch SOS were used to derive estimates of cut scores. In each case the most accurate of the three estimates was used to arrive at the recommended cut score seen in this report. Cut scores were estimated for each of the performance levels at grades four and eight for reading and mathematics. Contains 4 tables and 2 figures.

Smarter Balanced Preliminary Performance Levels

Northwest Evaluation Association, 2015. Recently the Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium Smarter Balanced released a document that established initial performance levels and the associated threshold scale scores for the Smarter Balanced assessment. The report included estimated percentages of students expected to perform at each of the four performance levels reported by grade and test subject e.g. English Language Arts or Mathematics based on preliminary field testing of the Smarter Balanced assessment conducted during the spring of 2014. These threshold scale scores and expected percentages represent a preliminary attempt at standard setting and Smarter Balanced may revise them after the spring 2015 testing term. Nevertheless they represent the best information currently available about the cut scores that will be used during the spring 2015 testing term of the Smarter Balanced test. Using the information provided within the Smarter Balanced report about the percentages of students expected to perform at each level Northwest Evaluation Association NWEA conducted a series of analyses to examine what Measures of Academic Progress MAP interim assessment scores might be associated with these performance level categories This was not an empirical study in the manner of our normal scale linking studies because the Smarter Balanced assessment has not yet been fully implemented NWEA intends to work with its partner school districts to conduct such a study examining the relationship between MAP performance and Smarter Balanced performance for individual students once Smarter Balanced has been fully implemented within NWEA partner districts NWEA analyses focused on the percentages of students expected to perform within each of the Smarter Balanced performance levels NWEA compared these percentages to our own nationally representative normative distributions in order to estimate the MAP scores that would produce similar percentages of students as those expected to fall within the Smarter Balanced performance level categories The approach taken here is quite similar to the approach used in many prior linking studies and can provide highly accurate estimates of cut scores Links used in this document are contained in the appendix

Preparation for the NWEA MAP Test ,2024 This book contains 300 questions to prepare your student for the NWEA MAP testing assessment This book is not affiliated with nor endorsed by NWEA front cover 2015 NWEA Measures of Academic Progress Normative Data Northwest Evaluation Association,2015 By using carefully constructed measurement scales that span grades Measures of Academic Progress MAP interim assessments from Northwest Evaluation Association NWEA offer educators efficient and very accurate estimates of student achievement status within a subject Before achievement test scores can be useful to educators however they need to be evaluated within a context The RIT Scale is a curriculum scale that uses individual item difficulty values to estimate student achievement An advantage of the RIT scale is that it can relate the numbers on the scale directly to the difficulty of items on the tests In addition the RIT scale is an equal interval scale Equal interval means that the difference between scores is the same regardless of whether a student is at the top bottom or middle of the RIT scale and it has the same meaning regardless of grade level To that end 2015 RIT Scale Norms allow educators to compare achievement status and changes in achievement status growth between test occasions to students performance in the same grade at a comparable stage of the school year This contextualizing of student performance 1 helps teachers as they plan instruction for individual students or confer with parents 2 supports school and district administrators as they focus on allocating resources and 3 empowers school staff as they work to improve all educational outcomes The 2015 NWEA RIT Scale Norms Study provides status and growth norms for individual students as well as for schools on each of the four RIT scales Reading Language Usage Mathematics and General Science The study s results are based on K 11 grade level samples Each sample is comprised of 72 000 to 153 000 student test records from approximately 1000 schools These numbers vary by subject These samples were drawn randomly from test record pools of up to 10 2 million students attending more than 23 500 public schools spread across 6 000 districts in 49 states Rigorous procedures were used to ensure that the norms were representative of the U S school age population Since MAP assessments can be administered on a schedule designed to meet a school s needs tests can be administered at any time during the school year The 2015 norms adjust for this scheduling flexibility by accounting for instructional days allowing more valid comparisons for status and growth

NWEA Map Test Preparation - Grade 6 Life Science

James W Alexander, 2023-12-25 The NWEA MAP Measures of Academic Progress test is an adaptive assessment that is designed to measure student growth and progress in a variety of subject areas The test is taken by millions of students across the United States and is widely used by educators to help inform instruction and measure student outcomes The NWEA MAP test is administered online and provides immediate feedback on student performance allowing teachers to adjust their teaching strategies and provide targeted support to individual students Effective preparation for the MAP Test involves a combination of understanding the test format mastering content knowledge and developing test taking strategies This test prep book is designed to provide students with comprehensive guidance on each content area offering targeted instruction and practice questions to build confidence and ensure success Additionally the book includes test taking tips and strategies to help students approach the test with a calm and focused mindset By working through this book and dedicating time to consistent practice students will be well equipped to excel on the MAP Test and achieve their academic goals This book focuses on grade 6 life science however it is suggested that students look beyond their grade expectations in order to excel in the test Also note that science in the MAP test is tested over 3 areas physical science life science and earth and space science It is recommended that students practice across all 3 areas in order to maximize results
