Chain Store Age ,1956 Normal Instructor and Primary Plans ,1926 Human Associative Memory John R. Anderson,G. H. Bower,2014-02-25 First published in 1973 This book proposes and tests a theory about human memory about how a person encodes retains and retrieves information from memory The book is especially concerned with memory for sentential materials We propose a theoretical framework which is adequate for describing comprehension of linguistic materials for exhibiting the internal representation of propositional materials for characterizing the interpretative processes which encode this information into memory and make use of it for remembering for answering questions recognizing instances of known categories drawing inferences and making deductions Transforming Teaching and Learning with Active and Dramatic Approaches Brian Edmiston, 2013-09-11 A CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title 2014 How can teachers transform classroom teaching and learning by making pedagogy more socially and culturally responsive more relevant to students lives and more collaborative How can they engage disaffected students in learning and at the same time promote deep understanding through high quality teaching that goes beyond test preparation This text for prospective and practicing teachers introduces engaging innovative pedagogy for putting active and dramatic approaches to learning and teaching into action Written in an accessible conversational and refreshingly honest style by a teacher and professor with over 30 years experience it features real examples of preschool elementary middle and high school teachers working in actual classrooms in diverse settings Their tales explore not only how but also why they have changed the way they teach Photographs and stories of their classroom practice along with summarizing charts of principles and strategies both illuminate the critical cross curricular and inquiry based conceptual framework Edmiston develops and provide rich examples and straightforward guidelines that can support readers as they experiment with using active and dramatic approaches to dialogue inquiry building community planning for exploration and authentic assessment in their own classrooms The Neuropsychology Casebook Donna L. Orsini, Wilfred G. Van Gorp, Kyle B. Boone, 2013-11-11 The Neuropsychology Casebook was developed to fill the existing gap in the current body of literature on clinical neuropsychology Although texts are available that describe neuropsychological tests and others provide information on syndromes this volume provides descriptions of neuropsychological test performance for individuals with various syndromes It was designed to illustrate the process of clinical interpretation of test findings and report writing for the individual case Our aims are to provide both the student and practicing professional with a collection of actual neuropsychological case studies that typify many of the cardinal disorders or syndromes frequently seen by practicing clinical neuropsychologists We have not provided an exhaustive survey of case studies representing many of the disorders commonly seen in neuropsychology rather we have focused on a few select cases that illustrate some of the more common disorders This book includes detailed case reports complete with referral questions historical information relevant neuroradiological findings actual neuropsychological test data and clinical interpretations that take into account all available information on the patient The cases are discussed in the chapter commentaries with reference to how each compares and contrasts with the prototypic case for that disorder or syndrome Such case studies help to highlight the various types of behavioral and cognitive sequelae associated with common clinical disorders The case studies which are examined through an hypothesis testing approach are also aimed at demonstrating how neuropsychological principles and methods are applied A Course of Study in History and Handbook to
