Staging Interspaces in Contemporary British Theatre Vicky Angelaki, 2024-06-03 This open access book considers how relationships to place and spatial ecologies more broadly are becoming redefined in light of intersecting climate health identity and care crises Through an interdisciplinary intersectional discourse it investigates how spaces of liminality frame contemporary human conditions in their interactional modes with both human and non human ecologies The interspace grounds the discussion indicating states of flux and transience where the in between is the defining characteristic This open access monograph then takes up the new complexity in one's relationships to their surrounding spaces through a rigorous discussion of texts and performance contexts in cutting edge contemporary British theatre on a national and international scale It seeks to address how in betweenness spatially temporally environmentally geographically and socially conceived has been emerging as the primary state for the unmoored individual of our time and how it might serve as catalyst for performing one's agency in modes more empathetic not only to other humans but also and equally to the non human world

Liddel,Polly Low,2013-09-26 From the archaic period onwards ancient literary authors working within a range of genres discussed and quoted a variety of inscriptions This volume offers a wide ranging set of perspectives on the diversity of epigraphic material present in ancient literary texts and the variety of responses both ancient and modern which they can provoke Identity and Intercultural Exchange in Travel and Tourism Anthony David Barker,2014-10-14 This book looks at the relationship between questions of identity formation and modern practices in travelling and tourism Unprecedented levels of mobility and international exchange over the last 100 years have raised questions about the stability of national and personal identities and new and creative patterns of behaviour and self realisation are now emerging due to the enormous commercial interests that lie behind the modern travel and tourism industries The volume will consider these issues and the challenges they create in various geographical contexts Germany Spain Romania Italy Africa and concludes with a number of case studies from the Portuguese context where the revenues from tourism are integral to its economy and a lifeline in the current economic crisis The Negative Existential Cycle Ljuba Veselinova,Arja Hamari,2022-12-20 In 1991 William Croft suggested that negative existentials typically lexical expressions that mean not exist not have are one possible source for negation markers and gave his hypothesis the name Negative Existential Cycle NEC It is a variationist model based on cross linguistic data For a good twenty years following its formulation it was cited at face value without ever having been tested by historical comparative data Over the last decade Ljuba Veselinova has worked on testing the model in a comparative perspective and this edited volume further expands on her work The collection presented here features detailed studies of several language families such as Bantu Chadic and Indo European A number of articles focus on the micro variation and attested historical developments within smaller groups and clusters such as Arabic Mandarin and Cantonese and Nanaic Finally variation and historical developments in specific languages are discussed for Ancient Hebrew Ancient Egyptian Moksha Mordvin Uralic Bashkir Turkic Kalmyk Mongolic three Pama Nyungan languages O dam Southern Uto Aztecan and Tacana Takanan Amazonian Bolivia The book is concluded by two chapters devoted to modeling cyclical processes in language change from different theoretical perspectives Key notions discussed throughout the book include affirmative and negative existential constructions the expansion of the latter into verbal negation and subsequently from more specific to more general markers of negation Nominalizations as well as the uses of negative existentials as standalone negative answers figure among the most frequent pathways whereby negative existentials evolve as general negation markers The operation of the Negative Existential Cycle appears partly genealogically conditioned as the cycle is found to iterate regularly within some families but never starts in others as is the case in Bantu In addition other special negation markers such as nominal negators are found to undergo similar processes i e they expand into the verbal domain and thereby develop into more general negation markers The book provides rich information on a specific path of the evolution of negation on cyclical processes in language change and it show cases the historical comparative method in a modern setting
