Dual-use life science research and biosecurity in the 21st Century: Social, Technical, Policy, and Ethical Challenges Jonathan E. Suk, Kathleen M. Vogel, Amanda Jane Ozin, 2015-06-04 In September 2011 scientists announced new experimental findings that would not only threaten the conduct and publication of influenza research but would have significant policy and intelligence implications The findings presented a modified variant of the H5N1 avian influenza virus hereafter referred to as the H5N1 virus that was transmissible via aerosol between ferrets These results suggested a worrisome possibility the existence of a new airborne and highly lethal H5N1 virus that could cause a deadly global pandemic In response a series of international discussions on the nature of dual use life science arose These discussions addressed the complex social technical political security and ethical issues related to dual use research This Research Topic will be devoted to contributions that explore this matrix of issues from a variety of case study and international perspectives

Religious Perspectives on Social Responsibility in Health Joseph Tham, Chris Durante, Alberto García Gómez, 2018-04-26 This book discuss the meaning and implications of the social and ethical implications of the notion of social responsibility in healthcare in six major world religions Buddhism Christianity Confucianism Hinduism Islam Judaism This collection of papers is based on a four day workshop where bioethics experts from various religious traditions gathered They discussed the ways in which their respective traditions could or could not uphold the tenets of Article 14 of UNESCO s Universal Declaration of bioethics and Human Rights The different papers presented in this book are based on this interchange of ideas at the workshop The book explores the potential points of convergence among the various perspectives presented as well as a discussion on the ways in which their moral differences may be managed The managing of these moral differences through international socio ethical mechanisms contributes significantly to the UNESCO Universal Declaration of Bioethics and Human Rights goal of simultaneously respecting religious cultural pluralism while upholding a commitment to human rights
