made the dangerous decision to return to the newly established People's Republic of China. He became one of the many thousands of Roman Catholics who suffered persecution. Convicted of counter-revolutionary activities and treason, he was imprisoned for 27 years and only released in 1982. His subsequent decision to accept the government's invitation to resume his prior role as head of the Shanghai Seminary and then assume the title of Bishop of Shanghai without Vatican approval shocked many Catholics. Now, some thirty years later, still serving as Bishop and regarded as one of the leading figures in the Chinese Catholic Church, Jin recounts formative experiences that provide essential insight into the faith and morality that sustained him through the turbulent years of the late 20th Century. In this volume of memoirs, Jin recalls his childhood and education, his entry into the Society of Jesus and formation as a priest, his return to China and imprisonment, and finally his release and return to Shanghai.

Ted Williams, 2003-01-01 Ted Williams 1918-2002 was a paradox. His cool, controlled and patient attitude while at the plate was incongruous with his explosive, unpredictable temper out of the batter's box. With a swing that was both admired and feared, Williams has been called the greatest hitter of the last half of the twentieth century and was perhaps the greatest left-handed hitter of all time. In this biography, Michael Seidel explores the complexities of the mercurial personality and amazing career of the near-mythic Splendid Splinter. With the death of Williams in the summer of 2002, baseball lost one of its true greats. Yet controversy continued to surround Williams in death as news of a bizarre family dispute over the fate of Williams's body captivated the country. In a new foreword to this edition, the author discusses the odd events surrounding the ballplayer's death and their significance to the legend of Ted Williams.

Woman with a Movie Camera Marina Goldovskaya, 2010-01-01 Marina Goldovskaya is one of Russia's best known documentary filmmakers. The first woman in Russia and possibly the world to combine being a director, writer, cinematographer, and producer, Goldovskaya has made over thirty documentary films and more than one hundred programs for Russian, European, Japanese, and American television. Her work, which includes the award-winning films The House on Arbat Street, The Shattered Mirror, and Solovky Power, has garnered international acclaim and won virtually every prize given for documentary filmmaking. In Woman with a Movie Camera, Goldovskaya turns her lens on her own life and work, telling an adventurous, occasionally harrowing story of growing up in the Stalinist era and subsequently documenting Russian society from the 1960s through the Thaw and Perestroika to post-Soviet Russia. She recalls her childhood in a Moscow apartment.

building that housed famous filmmakers being one of only three women students at the State Film School and working as an assistant cameraperson on the first film of Andrei Tarkovsky Russia's most celebrated director. Reviewing her professional filmmaking career which began in the 1960s Goldovskaya reveals her passion for creating films that presented a truthful picture of Soviet life as well as the challenges of working within and sometimes subverting the bureaucracies that controlled Russian film and television production and distribution. Along the way she describes a host of notable figures in Russian film, theater, art, and politics as well as the technological evolution of filmmaking from film to video to digital media. A compelling portrait of a woman who broke gender and political barriers as well as the eventful four decades of Russian history she has documented. Woman with a Movie Camera will be fascinating reading for a wide audience. Memoirs of Lady Fanshawe ... written by herself.
