Philip C. Beam

Winslow Homer At Prout S Neck:

Winslow Homer at Prout's Neck Philip C. Beam, 2014-11-07 Winslow Homer was the antithesis of the unkempt bohemian artist of the nineteenth century. He not only always maintained the appearance of an English country gentleman but was also an everyday sort of man both in his life and his paintings. Yet he is ranked as one of America's greatest painters. The reason is not hard to discover for Winslow Homer's powerful epic statements spoke for America with a breadth that few other artists have achieved. This is a lively intimate and immensely readable portrait of the artist that throws a new light on Homer's life and puts it in fresh perspective. This biography concentrates on Homer's years at Prout's Neck on Maine's rugged coast where he would create his finest paintings from 1883 until his death in 1920. Winslow Homer in the 1890s Winslow Homer, Philip C. Beam, 1990. This magnificent volume is devoted to Winslow Homer's great landscape and marine paintings in the 1890s which many believe to be the zenith of his art. By 1890, having spent hundreds of hours studying the ocean and its relationship to the cliffs at Prout's Neck, Maine, and penetrated meanings both universal and particular, he had achieved a complete mastery of marine painting and from then on produced masterpiece after masterpiece. A large majority of them inspired by his Prout's Neck surroundings. Provided by publisher. Winslow Homer in the 1890s Philip C. Beam, 1990. Winslow Homer in the 1890 Philip C. Beam, 1990. The definitive life of the painter who forged American identity visually in art and illustration with an impact comparable to that of Walt Whitman and Mark Twain in poetry and prose yet whose own story has remained largely untold. In 1860 at the age of twenty-four Winslow Homer 1836-1910 sold Harper's Weekly two dozen wood engravings carved into boxwood blocks and transferred to metal plates to stamp on paper. One was a scene that Homer saw on a visit to Boston his hometown. His illustration shows a crowd of abolitionists on the brink of eviction from a church at their front is Frederick Douglass declaring the freedom of all mankind. Homer born into the Panic of 1837 and raised in the years before the Civil War came of age in a nation in crisis. He created multivalent visual tales both quintessentially American and quietly replete with narrative for and about people of all races and ages. Whether using pencil watercolor or most famously oil Homer addressed the hopes and fears of his fellow Americans and invited his viewers into stories embedded with universal timeless questions of purpose and meaning. Like his contemporaries Twain and Whitman Homer captured the landscape of a rapidly changing country with an artist's probing insight His tale is one of America in all its complexity and contradiction as he evolved and adapted to the restless spirit of invention transforming his world In Winslow Homer American Passage William R Cross reveals the man behind the art It is the surprising story of a life led on the front lines of history In that life this Everyman made archetypal images of American culture endowed with a force of moral urgency through which they speak to all people today Includes Color Images and Maps Century Loan Exhibition as a Memorial to Winslow Homer [Prouts Neck, 1936], 1936 American Paintings and Sculpture at the Sterling and Francine Clark Art Institute Margaret C.
