resources, products and markets—equities, commodities, exchange rates, forwards and futures.

They will not all agree. "The agency is a creature, born of the House-Senate process, and it's not always clear how much of the House's will it can carry out," says Rep. Robert Wexler, D-Miss. "I think it's important to make sure that the agency is not just a rubber stamp of the House's will, but that it's a real player in the process." Wexler says the agency should be able to "make a difference" in the way the House does business.
