Learning on the Job Steven F. Wilson, 2006 The organizations Business models School designs School culture Execution School leaders Politics and schools Academic results Business results Last Bell Carl Bistany, Stephanie Gruner Buckley, 2015-11-05 In the mid nineties the Alfred Glickman School was just another failing school in one of America s most violent cities Then SABIS a private for profit education provider took over Twenty years later the school is a six time silver medalist in U S News World Report s annual America s Best High Schools listing and every single graduate of the school has been offered a college place With success of this magnitude you would think that for profit managed charter schools like SABIS would be in high demand On the contrary they are fought at every turn Why is the idea of employing for profit companies to help rescue failing public schools treated with fear and hostility Stranger still why does a nation built on free enterprise refuse to embrace a free market strategy when so many students and schools would clearly benefit and with so much at stake Last Bell is a book about politics money and power It examines the charge that for profits running charter schools are in it for the money not the kids and reveals the real motives of those spreading these ideas and why they fight private sector involvement in public schools Last Bell is a reasonable voice in a polarized debate It does not call for an end to public schools but rather imagines a future in which private companies help create a competitive market for public education to boost performance turn derelict schools into centers of excellence and give parents even in the worst neighborhoods real choice and their children a future From Village School to Global Brand James Tooley, 2012-06-14 Can education be run as a profitable business and still be driven by a humanitarian vision SABIS shows the answer is yes Now with 60 schools in 15 countries and over 60 000 students SABIS is a global education company committed to improving lives The book is a journey through time tracing the company from its humble origins in 1886 Mount Lebanon through the civil war to the present day It s also a journey through geographies from Kurdistan to Katrina from the first international schools in war torn northern Iraq to the first charter school to reopen after the hurricane devastated inner city New Orleans SABIS goes where other educational providers are unwilling to tread helping to rebuild lives shattered by war and natural disaster It s finally a journey through the minds of committed educators watching as they grapple with the fundamental question of how we educate young people in the virtues that have stood the test of time whilst still enabling them to be prepared for a future of unknown possibilities Sick Schools David V. Anderson, 2020-01-10 Who s afraid of for profit education Those who work in non profit or government owned and operated schools Many parents and other stakeholders have been made fearful by this education establishment What s more important to humans nutrition or education Nutrition is more important because it is the prerequisite for other human activities including education What organizations provide food and who pays for the food Food is provided by for profit farmers for profit processors for profit wholesalers and for profit retailers Most food is purchased with the consumers own money but a significant amount is purchased by low income individuals using food stamps Why can't education be provided similarly using education stamps We trust for-profit enterprises to provide our food Why can't we trust for-profit enterprises to provide K-12 education Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for-profit K-12 education sector would please and amaze its customers Press
