Sadf Military Veteran:

South Africa's 'Border War' Gary Baines, 2014-02-27 South Africa's Border War provides a timely study of the war of words waged by retired South African Defence Force SADF generals and other veterans against critics and detractors. The book explores the impact of the Border War on South African culture and society during apartheid and in the new dispensation and discusses the lasting legacy or afterlife of the war in great detail. It also offers an appraisal of the secondary literature of the Border War supplemented by archival research, interviews and an analysis of articles, newspaper reports, reviews and blogs. Adopting a genuinely multidisciplinary approach that borrows from the study of history, literature, visual culture, memory, politics and international relations, South Africa's Border War is an important volume for anyone interested in the study of war and memory or the modern history of South Africa.

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security, political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming, the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged, HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence, security and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

War Veterans and the World after 1945 Ángel Alcalde, Xosé M. Núñez Seixas, 2018-03-29 This book examines war veterans' history after 1945 from a global perspective. In the Cold War era, in most countries of the world, there was a sizeable portion of the population with direct war experience. This edited volume gathers contributions which show the veterans' involvement in all the major historical processes shaping the world after World War II: Cold War politics, racial conflict, decolonization, state building and the reshaping of war memory. These were phenomena in which former soldiers and ex-combatants were directly involved. By examining how different veterans' groups, movements and organizations challenged or sustained the Cold War, strived to prevent or to foster decolonization and transcended or supported official memories of war, the volume characterizes veterans as largely independent and autonomous actors which interacted with societies and states in the making of our times. Spanning historical cases from the United States to Hong Kong, from Europe to Southern Africa, from Algeria to Iran, the volume situates veterans within the turbulent international context since World War II      In Different Times Ian van der Waag, Albert Grundlingh, 2019-11-15

This is the first attempt to bring together diverse scholars using different lenses to study South Africa's Border War. As a book, it is critical in approach, provides deeper reflection, and focuses specifically on the SADF experience of the war. The result is a more complex picture of the war's dynamics and its legacies. Although South Africa is a vastly different country today, the study of the Border War opens a range of questions also relevant to contemporary deployments such as in Lesotho 1998 and the Central African Republic 2013. It includes the debate on participation in foreign conflicts, on the deployment design and preparation of appropriate modern armed forces, and their use as foreign policy instruments in far-off theatres, on military planning, and as the historical controversies regarding the battles at Cuito Cuanavale and Bangui illustrate on the interface between foreign campaigning and domestic politics.

Transnational Histories of Southern Africa's Liberation Movements Jocelyn Alexander, JoAnn McGregor, Blessing-Miles Tendi, 2020-05-21

Transnational Histories of Southern Africa's Liberation Movements offers new perspectives on southern Africa's wars of national liberation, drawing on extensive oral historical and archival research. Assuming neither the primacy of nationalist loyalties as they exist today nor any single path to liberation, the book unpicks any notion of a straightforward imposition of Cold War ideologies or strategic interests on liberation wars. This approach adds new dimensions to the rich literatures on the Global Cold War and on solidarity movements. The contributors trace the ways that ideas and practices were made, adopted, and circulated through time and space through a focus on African soldiers, politicians, and diplomats. The book also asks what motivated the men and women who crossed borders to join liberation movements, how Cold War influences were acted upon, interpreted, and used, and why certain moments, venues, and relations took on exaggerated importance. The connections among liberation movements between them and their hosts, and across an extraordinarily diverse set of external actors, reveal surprising exchanges and lasting legacies that have too often been obscured by the assertion of monolithic national histories. Tracing an extraordinarily diverse set of interactions and exchanges, Transnational Histories of Southern Africa's Liberation Movements will be of great interest to scholars of Southern Africa, Transnational History, the Cold War, and African Politics. The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Southern African Studies.

The Legacy of a Troubled Past Bernard Cros, Mathilde Rogez, Gilles Teulie, 2022-06-07

Since the advent of democracy in 1994, South Africa has been engaged in an unprecedented exercise of national soul-searching, torn between the need to lay to rest centuries of racial conflict and the desire to come to terms with its traumatic history. This book asks whether the country has begun to turn the corner on the legacy of collective hurt. To do so, it ranges in scope across 350 years of South African history, encompassing the struggle against the apartheid regime the downfall of white supremacy the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the first 25 years of democracy up to more recent movements such as RhodesMustFall or the inquests into the 2012 Marikana massacre that point to the persistence of traumatic memory in contemporary society The authors assembled here set out to analyse the representation of such memory how it has been woven into narratives recorded preserved and questioned and how issues of individual and collective responsibility have been grafted onto it through the visual arts literature political discourse and public action In focusing on memory along with its derived forms of memorialization collective memory nostalgia or post memory our contributors pose a fundamental question is South Africa finally coming to the end of the post apartheid transition period Do the decades of memory work on racial violence and repression examined here hold out hope for the nation to make peace with its past

Guerrillas and Combative Mothers Siphokazi Magadla, 2023-12-01 Guerrillas and Combative Mothers is a narrative of women participating in the armed struggle against apartheid from 1961 to 1994 and their lives in a democratic South Africa Focusing on their agency commitment beliefs and actions it describes how women got politicised and the decisions and circumstances that led them to join the armed struggle in South Africa and exile Siphokazi Magadla discusses the forms of military training they received the combat activities and their transformation as women and soldiers Magadla also talks about their participation in the South African National Defence Force led demobilisation process and their contributions to the democratic transformation of the SANDF By illuminating the different eras and arenas of their participation this book shows the broadness of the armed struggle against apartheid as a historical truth and as a matter of gender equality and justice for an inclusive and more democratic future

Reconciliation and Justice in Africa Siph Mahokoto, Christo Thesnaar, 2025-07-31 The world is groaning beneath a seemingly endless cycle of oppression and injustice This is particularly evident in Africa where colonization racism and violent conflicts have left deep scars on both nations and peoples In this collection of essays theologians from across Africa draw from their nations painful histories to grapple with the complex questions of reconciliation forgiveness and healing Using examples of religious ethnic and tribal conflicts across the continent these essays explore reconciliation and justice in the context of liberation theology biblical studies ecclesiology and pastoral care An excellent resource for peacemakers and academics alike this book offers a powerful and contextualized vision of the gospel's power to restore justice and offer true hope to a wounded world

Apartheid's Black Soldiers

Lennart Bolliger, 2021-10-01 New oral histories from Black Namibian and Angolan troops who fought in apartheid South Africa's security forces reveal their involvement and its impact on their lives to be far more complicated than most historical scholarship has acknowledged In anticolonial struggles across the African continent tens of thousands of African soldiers served in the militaries of colonial and settler states In southern Africa they often made up the bulk of these militaries and in some contexts far outnumbered those who fought in the liberation movements armed wings Despite these soldiers significant impact on the region's military and political history this dimension of southern Africa's anticolonial struggles has been almost entirely ignored in previous scholarship Black troops from Namibia and Angola spearheaded apartheid South Africa's military intervention in their countries respective anticolonial war and postindependence civil war Drawing from oral history interviews and archival sources Lennart Bolliger challenges the common framing of these wars as struggles of national liberation fought by and for Africans against White colonial and settler state armies Focusing on three case studies of predominantly Black units commanded by White officers Bolliger investigates how and why these soldiers participated in South Africa's security forces and considers the legacies of that involvement In tackling these questions he rejects the common tendency to categorize the soldiers as collaborators and traitors and reveals the un national facets of anticolonial struggles Finally the book's unique analysis of apartheid military culture shows how South Africa's military units were far from monolithic and instead developed distinctive institutional practices mythologies and concepts of militarized masculinity

State of the Nation Sakhela Buhlungu, 2007 State of the Nation South Africa 2007 offers 22 diverse angles on contemporary South Africa in one compelling and comprehensive collection The politics section focuses on the outcome of the 2006 local government elections and issues of service delivery The economy section examines the rapidly growing social welfare net the state of our public health systems and the topics of water and the environment heritage and tourism Violence against women prison reform the plight of South Africa's former guerrilla fighters transformation in South African rugby and the post apartheid role of the church all come under the spotlight in the society section The volume concludes with a look at trends in the continuing involvement of South African business on the African continent South Africa's part in the complex search for peace and stability in the Democratic Republic of Congo and the life of the vast Zimbabwean exile community in South Africa

Foreign Policy in Post-Apartheid South Africa Adekeye Adebajo, Kudrat Virk, 2017-12-18 South Africa is the most industrialized power in Africa It was rated the continent's largest economy in 2016 and is the only African member of the G20 It is also the only strategic partner of the EU in Africa Yet despite being so strategically and economically significant there is little scholarship that focuses on South Africa as a regional hegemon This book provides the first comprehensive assessment of South Africa's post Apartheid foreign policy Over its 23 chapters and with contributions from established Africa Western Asian and American scholars as well as diplomats and analysts the book examines the current pattern of the country's foreign relations in impressive detail The geographic and thematic coverage is extensive including chapters on the domestic imperatives of South Africa's foreign policy peace making defence and security bilateral relations in Southern Central West Eastern and North Africa bilateral relations with the US China Britain France and Japan the country's key external multilateral relations with the UN the BRICS economic grouping the African Caribbean and Pacific Group ACP as well as the EU and the World Trade Organization WTO An essential resource for researchers the book will be relevant to the fields of area studies foreign policy history international relations international law security studies political economy and development studies

Voices from the Underground Shanil Haricharan, Shirley Gunn, 2019-10-01 In 1987 the apartheid minister of law and order boasted that the security forces had crushed Umkhonto we Sizwe in the Western Cape He could not have been more wrong The Ashley Kriel Detachment named after one of their slain comrades conducted over thirty operations between late 1987 and early 1990 playing a crucial role in the defeat of an unjust system In Voices from the Underground eighteen members of the AKD give accounts of their involvement in the armed struggle The book traces their varying journeys into MK via student activism trade unions religious organisations and UDF politics It details their training in Angola Botswana Tanzania Cuba and South Africa and their experiences of detention and interrogation Members recall the stresses of couriering arms and explosives across police roadblocks hiding in safe houses and evading capture They talk about the operations they executed the measures they took to avoid civilian casualties and their responses to security breaches and the deaths of comrades in the line of duty Above all this is a book about people showing the effects of apartheid on their lives their reasons for joining the armed struggle the challenges of surviving in the underground while raising children and their experiences of returning to civilian life or in some cases integrating into the SANDF Voices from the Underground gives a human face to ordinary people who took up arms to fight a violent state for the freedom of all South Africans

Irene Personalities, 1982

War Stories Philip Dwyer, 2016-11-01 Although war memoirs constitute a rich varied literary form they are often dismissed by historians as unreliable This collection of essays is one of the first to explore the modern war memoir revealing the genre's surprising capacity for breadth and sophistication while remaining sensitive to the challenges it poses for scholars Covering conflicts from the Napoleonic era to today the studies gathered here consider how memoirs have been used to transmit particular views of war even as they have emerged within specific social and political contexts

Reflections on the Complexities of the Covid-19 Pandemic Shadrack B. Ramokgadi, Mbekezeli C.

Mkhize,2022-12-31 This book offers an original and timeous snapshot of contemporary lines of argument from various authors in the Global South on the Covid 19 pandemic as a complex emergency at the height of the pandemic At the time of writing there were various levels of uncertainties from different countries citizens the public and private sectors industries and economies who were in disarray The book traces the origins of the Covid 19 pandemic in the province of Wuhan in China the challenges and the responses from a multiplicity of countries particularly from the Global South Of particular importance the book notes that vaccine uncertainty limiting the spread of the virus and loss of life and employment were some of the major challenges that these governments and citizens were confronted with Also the sizes of various economies lead to various challenges that the abovementioned governments shouldered The contributors shed light on various aspects related to the Covid 19 pandemic from various countries in the Global South and include but were not limited to securitised lockdowns the use of militaries and complete closures of national and sometimes fragile economies as well as overburdened health systems These are just some dire consequences of Covid 19 on the public and private sector industries and economy The book emphasises that despite myriad challenges reported there are various lessons that can be learnt in terms of how the countries responded to the pandemic and in terms of how future pandemics can be handled Finally this is an interesting piece of work wherein contributors as a collective seek to shed light with regards to the unique perspectives from the Global South and at the same time give some guidance related to their specific areas of focus

Symbols that Bind, Symbols that Divide Scott L. Moeschberger,Rebekah A. Phillips DeZalia,2014-05-14 This work explores the function of both divisive and uniting symbols in various conflict settings around the world It takes a fairly broad perspective on what constitutes a symbol to include objects such as flags signs language and monuments all of which convey conflicting meanings in a society affected by conflict In addition the authors include commemorations and other dynamic events that serve as a means for groups or individuals to connect with past generations celebrate a heritage and possibly express religiosity In order to provide context for the nuances surrounding the symbols there are brief historical overviews for each conflict featured in the volume In each chapter three issues are emphasized the particular symbols that are divisive in the specific culture how these symbols were used to perpetuate conflict and how these symbols can be used or modified to bring unification Contributions come from authors from around the world that have conducted empirical studies on intergroup relationships or have provided significant academic contributions in the area of symbols and collective memories represented in theoretical publications Taken together the contents of the volume provide a rich tapestry of intellectual analyses to the diverse selection of conflict settings from around the globe In addition to the nine case studies there is an introductory chapter which grounds the discussion in current peace psychology literature as well as provides future directions This volume is a valuable resource to many as the focus on symbols can span many disciplines such as political science anthropology sociology psychology and art Furthermore it is of significant interest to all scholars and peace activists studying these various countries and their conflicts      The ANC's War against Apartheid Stephen R. Davis, 2018-02-02 This study of the armed wing of the African National Congress also contributes significantly to scholarship on liberation movements more broadly Gary Baines author of South Africa's Border War For nearly three decades the armed wing of the African National Congress ANC known as Umkhonto we Sizwe MK waged a violent revolutionary struggle against the apartheid state in South Africa Stephen Davis works with extensive oral testimonies and the heroic myths that were constructed after 1994 to offer a new history of this movement Davis deftly addresses the histories that reinforce the legitimacy of the ANC as a ruling party its longstanding entanglement with the South African Communist Party and efforts to consolidate a single narrative of struggle and renewal in concrete museums and memorials Davis shows that the history of MK is more complicated and ambiguous than previous laudatory accounts would have us believe and in doing so he discloses the contradictions of the liberation struggle as well as its political manifestations      Debates of the House of Assembly South Africa.
