South Africa ,1989 Journal of the Royal Naval Medical Service ,1995 Images of Women in Peace and War Sharon Macdonald,Pat Holden,Shirley Ardener,1988 As warriors freedom fighters and victims as mothers wives and prostitutes and as creators and members of peace movements women are inevitably caught up in the net of war Yet women s participation in warfare and peace campaigns has often been underestimated or ignored Images of Women in Peace and War explores women s relationships to war peace and revolution from the Amazons Inka and Boadicea to women soldiers in South Africa Mau Mau freedom fighters and the protestors at Greenham Common The contributors consider not only the reality of women s participation but also look at how their actions have been perceived and represented across cultures and through history They examine how sexual imagery is constructed how it is used to delineate women s relation to warfare and how these images have sometimes been subverted in order to challenge the status quo The book raises important questions about whether women have a special prerogative to promote peace and considers whether the experience of motherhood leads to a distinctive women s position on war The authors find that their analyses lead them to deal with arguments on the basic nature of the sexes and to reevaluate our concepts of peace war and gender Defense & Foreign Affairs Handbook ,1999 South Africa 1985 Rone Heyns,South Africa. Conscientious Objection in South Africa ,1980 Namibia, the Ravages of War Barbara König,1983 This factually detailed account of the devastating consequences of the South African war for the civilian population is compulsory reading for an understanding of the present situation in Namibia While most other current publications on Namibia address themselves to the international dispute and the prospects for an independent Namibia this booklet focuses on the conditions of life for black Namibians under military occupation forced removals the machinery of repression and the destruction of social infrastructure It shows how the pervasive military presence serves to underpin the exploitative economic structures and racial policies and how the military apparatus has increasingly become the dominant force in Namibia The author concludes that the South Africans have not achieved their aim of subduing the population and that support for SWAPO has grown despite the sufferings inflicted on all sections of the Namibian population The evidence presented is drawn largely from church reports and Namibian newspapers Eriksen Moorsom 1989
