Travel Culture, Travel Writing and Bengali Women, 1870-1940 Jayati Gupta, 2020-07-23 This book chronicles travel writings of Bengali women in colonial India and explores the intersections of power indigeneity and the representations of the self and the other in these writings It documents the transgressive histories of these women who stepped out to create emancipatory identities for themselves The book brings together a selection of travelogues from various Bengali women and their journeys to the West the Aryavarta and Japan These writings challenge stereotypes of the circumscribed native woman and explore the complex personal and socio political histories of women in colonial India Reading these from a feminist postcolonial perspective the volume highlights how these women from different castes class and ages confront the changing realities of their lives in colonial India in the backdrop of the independence movement and the second world war The author draws attention to the personal histories of these women which informed their views on education womanhood marriage female autonomy family and politics in the late 19th and early 20th centuries Engaging and insightful this volume will be of interest to students and researchers of literature and history gender and culture studies and for general readers interested in women and travel writing

Domestic Tourism in Asia Shalini Singh, 2009 Many countries have a rich tradition of domestic travel and holidaying which not only predates but exceeds mass international travel This is particularly the case in Asia where recent economic prosperity and trends in globalization have not merely spurred but continue to shape traditions in domestic tourism This book is the first to address specifically the continuities and changes in domestic tourism in Asia It explores the ethos of domestic travel and holiday making in order to understand the distinctive common strands that underlie conventional and contemporary tourism practices against the local and global backdrop A considerable range of countries is covered in the case studies including those with patrimonial histories namely China and India the economically developed nation state of Japan and the microstates of Taiwan Singapore Macao and Hong Kong besides the coastal countries of Malaysia Philippines Laos and Vietnam as well as the land locked countries of Kyrgyzstan and Mongolia The book presents some of the many interfaces of Asian cultural and natural heritages with tourism while giving due considerations to today s political and economic realities

Decolonial Travel Avishek Ray, 2024-11-08 This volume brings together scholarship on indigenous forms of travel to decolonize travel theory It looks at certain minoritarian vernacular traveling cults very rarely examined that compel us to rethink on the one hand the conventional tropes of and rationales for travel and on the other hand notions of post coloniality nationalism and modernity in the context of India The book illustrates the enduring problematic of the colonial episteme how it deploys pervasive categories through which travel practices are sought to be understood and why such categories are inadequate in accounting for the vernacular traveling cults in question In studying the vernacular world making in and through these cults this book offers critical insights on how they defy the log istics of the imperial categories and why they must be read as expressions of decoloniality An important contribution to travel studies the book will be an indispensable resource for students and researchers of South Asian studies travel theory Indian literary and cultural studies cultural history and anthropology sociology and decoloniality
