Rural Women Workers in Nineteenth-century England Nicola Verdon,2002 The range of women s work and its contribution to the family economy studied here for the first time Despite the growth of women s history and rural social history in the past thirty years the work performed by women who lived in the nineteenth century English countryside is still an under researched issue Verdon directly addresses this gap in the historiography placing the rural female labourer centre stage for the first time The involvement of women in the rural labour market as farm servants as day labourers in agriculture and as domestic workers are all examined using a wide range of printed and unpublished sources from across England The roles village women performed in the informal rural economy household labour gathering resources and exploiting systems of barterand exchange are also assessed Changes in women s economic opportunities are explored alongside the implications of region age marital status number of children in the family and local custom women s economic contribution to the rural labouring household is established as a critical part of family subsistence despite criticism of such work and the rise in male wages after 1850 NICOLA VERDON is a Research Fellow in the Rural History Centre University of Reading Rural Life in Victorian England G. E. Mingay,1990 Rural Tradition in the English Novel, 1900-39 Glen Cavaliero,1977-06-17

English Farmworkers and Local Patriotism, 1900-1930 Nicholas Mansfield,2017-03-02 This new study looks at the ways in which the years surrounding the First World War shaped the lives of the rural workforce in Britain and how the patriotism unleashed by the war was used by those in power to blur class divisions and build conservative attitudes in rural communities Using the area of Shropshire and the Marches as a focus the book looks at farmworkers and their trade unions the structures of agrarian economy class divisions local loyalties cultural institutions and political organisations From 1917 the growing power of the farmworkers unions and the rural labour movement mounted a challenge to the landed elites and sought a radical change from rural poverty The author shows how the elites met this threat dynamically by creating a range of new village institutions such as ploughing matches Women s Institutes village halls war memorials and the British Legion The extraordinary growth of rural radicalism at the end of the war was diffused by popular conservatism and local patriotism Influenced by wartime experiences the period 1900 1930 saw a change in rural society from parochial concerns to a new sense of loyalty to county and to the English nation The Wellesley Index to Victorian Periodicals 1824-1900 Walter E. Houghton,2013-05-24 Simply a great work of reference Future scholars will wonder how anybody managed without the Wellesley Index It will quietly change the whole nature of Victorian studies Christopher Ricks New Statesman It is now impossible to think of Victorian literary and historical studies without the benefit of it this is a very remarkable achievement indeed the complete set will be a monument to the Houghtons foresight pertinacity and skill TLS The Place of the Rural Blacksmith in Parish Life 1500 - 1900 Marcia Evans,1998 Late Victorian Britain 1875-1901 J.F.C.
