

The background is a light beige color. In the upper right, there is a large, tilted rectangle divided into four quadrants of different shades: white, light brown, dark brown, and white. To the right of this rectangle, a black, irregular shape extends downwards, with a red vertical line passing through it. On the left side, there are several colored lines: a green line starting from the top left, a blue line starting from the middle left, and a grey line starting from the bottom left. These lines have small black circles at their ends, resembling circuit connections or stoplights. The text is arranged in a clean, modern layout.
