Hughes illuminate the decision making and planning process that led to New Brunswick's dramatic revitalization describing the major redevelopment projects that demonstrate the city's success in capitalizing on funding opportunities These projects include the momentous decision of Johnson Johnson to build its world headquarters in the city the growth of a theater district the expansion of Rutgers University into the downtown area and the destruction and rebuilding of public housing But while the authors highlight the positive effects of the transformation they also explore the often heated controversies about demolishing older neighborhoods and ask whether new building benefits residents Shining a light on both the successes and failures in downtown revitalization they underscore the lessons to be learned for national urban policy highlighting the value of partnerships unwavering commitment and local leadership Today New Brunswick s skyline has been dramatically altered by new office buildings residential towers medical complexes and popular cultural centers This engaging volume explores the challenges facing urban America while also providing a specific case study of a city s quest to raise its economic fortunes and retool its economy to changing needs
