10 Women of Mystery Earl F. Bagnall, 1981 This volume which examines the special contributions of a number of women mystery writers sheds light on this significant example of common interests in recreational reading among women and men and the reasons behind the early and continuing uncharacteristic near equality of both sexes in this field of endeavor through Boucher's death in 1968 This is a great resource for all mystery readers and collectors Winner of the 2008 Macavity Awards for Best Mystery Nonfiction Mystery Fanfare Michael L. Cook, 1983 This work is a composite index of the complete runs of all mystery and detective fan magazines that have been published through 1981 Added to it are indexes of many magazines of related nature This includes magazines that are primarily oriented to boys book collecting the paperbacks and the pulp magazine hero characters since these all have a place in the mystery and detective genre Post-War British Women Novelists and the Canon Nick Turner, 2011-11-03 With the increasing number of books on contemporary fiction there is a need for a work that examines whom we value and why These questions lie at the heart of this book which by focusing on four novelists literary and popular interrogates the canon over the last fifty years The argument unfolds to demonstrate that academic trends increasingly control canonicity as do the demands of genre the increasing commercialisation of literature and the power of the literary prize Turner argues that literary excellence demonstrated by style and imaginative power is often missing in many works that have become modern classics and makes a case for the value of the universal in literature Written in a jargon free style with reference to many supporting writers the book raises a number of significant cultural questions about the arts fashions and literary reputations of interest to readers in contemporary literary studies Demon in My View Ruth Rendell, 2000-01 Arthur Johnson's loneliness has perverted his desire for love and respect into a carefully controlled tendency for violence One floor below him a scholar finishing his thesis on psychopathic personalities is about to stumble upon one of Johnson's many secrets The Fallen Curtain Ruth Rendell, 2009-07-01 A stranger lures a child into his car with the promise of sweets A young man spots his fiancée's double in a public park of ill repute An executive visits the secluded home of a former employee whose intentions are frightfully unclear A modest soul weds the woman he rescues from suicide only to fall victim to an unfathomable form of possessiveness In the eleven tales gathered in The Fallen Curtain Ruth Rendell the grande dame of the literary mystery lays bare the twisted inner workings of the unbalanced mind Here are eleven tales of haunting psychological accuracy the gesture that betrays a parent's madness the childhood memory clouded with denial the utterance that introduces the threat of violence in a situation as benign as a dinner date Instantly engaging maddeningly addictive The Fallen Curtain testifies to the enduring talents of a master of the genre Women of Mystery Martha Hailey DuBose, 2000-12-11 In this remarkable book Martha Hailey DuBose has given those multitudes of readers who love the mystery novel an indispensable addition to their libraries Unlike other works on the subject Women of Mystery is not merely a directory of the novelists and their publications with a few biographical details DuBose combines extensive research into the lives of significant women mystery writers from Anna Katherine Green and Mary Roberts Rinehart with critical essays on their work anecdotes contemporary reviews and opinions and some of the women's own comments She takes us through the Golden Age of the British women mystery writers Christie Sayers Marsh Allingham and Tey to the leading crime novelists of today focused on the women who have become legends of the genre And though she laments so many mysteries so little time she makes a good effort at mentioning some of the best of the rest. When DuBose writes of the lives of her principal players she relates them to their times, their families, their personal situations, and above all to their books. She subtly points out that Sayers' whose experience with the men in her life was inevitably disastrous, created in Lord Peter the ideal lover, one who is all that a woman desires and needs. DuBose gives us the curriculum vitae that Dorothy Sayers created to help her bring Peter Wimsey to a virtual actuality. Ngaio Marsh would give up an active presence in the theatrical world she loved but she recreated it for herself as well as her readers in many of her novels. The biographies of these women are as engrossing as the stories they wrote, and Martha DuBose has shined a different, intimate and intriguing light on them, their works, and the lives that informed those works. This book is so full of treasure it's hard to see how any mystery enthusiast will be able to do without it. And what a gift it would make for anyone on your list who has been heard to announce, "I love a mystery." Some of the treats inside: In the Beginning, The Mothers of Detection, Anna Katherine Green, Mary Roberts Rinehart, A Golden Era, The Genteel Puzzlers, Agatha Christie, Dorothy L. Sayers, Ngaio Marsh, Margery Allingham, Josephine Tey, Modern Motives, Mysteries of the Murderous Mind, Patricia Highsmith, P. D. James, Ruth Rendell, Mary Higgins Clark, Sue Grafton, and more.

1,000 Books to Read Before You Die James Mustich, 2018-10-02. The ultimate literary bucket list. THE WASHINGTON POST. Celebrate the pleasure of reading and the thrill of discovering new titles in an extraordinary book that is as compulsively readable, entertaining, surprising, and enlightening as the 1,000 plus titles it recommends. Covering fiction, poetry, science, and science fiction, memoir, travel, writing, biography, children's books, history, and more, 1,000 Books to Read Before You Die ranges across cultures and through time to offer an eclectic collection of works that each deserve to come with the recommendation, "You have to read this." But it's not a proscriptive list of the great works; rather, it's a celebration of the glorious mosaic that is our literary heritage. Flip it open to any page and be transfixed by a fresh take on a very favorite book. Or come across a title you always meant to read and never got around to. Or, like browsing in the best kind of bookshop, stumble on a completely unknown author and work and feel that tingle of discovery. There are classics, of course, and unexpected treasures, too. Lists to help pick and choose like Offbeat Escapes or A Long Climb but What a View. And its alphabetical arrangement by author assures that surprises await on almost every turn of the page, with Cormac McCarthy and The Road next to Robert McCloskey and Make Way for Ducklings, Alice Walker next to Isaac Walton. There are nuts and bolts, too: best editions to read, other books by the author if you like this, you'll like that, recommendations, and an interesting endnote of adaptations where appropriate. Add it all up, and in fact, there are more than six thousand titles by nearly four thousand authors mentioned. A life-changing list for a lifetime of reading. 948 pages later, you still want more.

THE WASHINGTON POST. The Fiction of Ruth Rendell Barbara Fass Leavy, 2012-08-31. A study of the role of family, ancient Greek narratives, and the psychological theories of Freud and Jung in the mystery novels of Ruth Rendell. Aside from Ruth Rendell's brilliance as a fiction writer and her appeal to mystery lovers, her books portray a compelling universal experience.

that her readers can immediately relate to the intra familial stresses generated by the nuclear family Even those who experience the joys as well as pains of family life will find in Rendell the conflicts that beset all who must navigate their way through the conflicts that beset members of the closest families Barbara Fass Leavy analyzes the multi leveled treatment of these themes that contributes to Rendell s standing as a major contemporary novelist Rendell who also writes as Barbara Vine draws on ancient Greek narratives and on the psychological theories Sigmund Freud and Carl Jung derived from them to portray the disturbed family relationships found throughout her work Leavy s analysis considers what distinguishes mysteries as popular entertainment from crime fiction as literary art The potential for rereading even when the reader remembers whodunit will be the basis for this distinction Leavy also looks closely at the Oedipus and Electra complexes and how they illuminate Rendell s portrayals of the different pairings within the nuclear family for example mother and daughter and considers the importance of gender differences In addition Leavy corrects a widespread error that Freud formulated the Electra complex when in fact the formulation was Jung s as he challenged Freud s emphasis on the Oedipus story as the essential paradigm for human psychological development
