Cohabitation among Students in Higher-Learning Institutions in Tanzania Elia Shabani Mligo, Jael Omanga Otieno, 2018-02-28 Colleges and universities have been meeting places of students for the sake of studies all over the world As students transcend from secondary level education to tertiary level the degree of freedom increases they become free to live the style of life they choose This freedom is mainly caused by their advance in age from childhood to youth ages Cohabitation is one of the styles of life that students in most higher learning institutions choose to live However cohabitation is not the style of life that emerges in the recent time In the industrialized world for example cohabitation among youth started a long time ago By the 1970s and 1980s its rate increased greatly due to secularization and increase in freedom Being aware of this growing trend in cohabitation this book surveys the extent of cohabitation among students in higher learning institutions in Tanzania and how it affects the academic performance of the cohabiting partners It means that the book assesses both positive and negative effects for this style of life among the surveyed students Therefore this book is important to both university and college students so that they can be aware of the positive and negative effects of cohabitation especially in terms of academic performance

Revisiting Peace Journalism in the Kenyan News Landscape Cecilia Arregui Olivera, 2025-02-25 This book revisits the concept of peace journalism a framework that emerged to question and redefine the professional ethos of conflict reporting by challenging traditional news values such as the focus on negativity violence and the elites to emphasise reconciliation and dialogue contextualisation of conflicts and giving voice to all involved parties The author argues that in a globalised and diverse world the notion of peace journalism continues to mutate and evolve every time it enters specific contexts and for that matter it cannot be regarded as a one size fits all approach The book reviews and challenges the dominant ways in which peace journalism has been studied and understood to date before exploring the multiple tensions and relationships between notions of peace journalism and journalistic roles and practices in the reporting of electoral conflict and terrorism by legacy newspapers in Kenya After deconstructing this complex concept and tracing its motions mutations and evolutions in a specific setting peace journalism is redefined as a dynamic concept that is continuously negotiated between the particulars of context and a shared essence that circles around the values of peace non violence and reconciliation This book will interest journalism and media studies scholars educators and graduate students in particular those interested in or specialising in peace journalism or conflict reporting or the East African or Kenyan news media scene

Election Observation at a Crossroads Thomas Molony, 2025-09-18 This groundbreaking collection offers the first book length contribution to ongoing debates around how election observation can best support genuine democratic elections in Africa In a three part structure covering international observers their domestic counterparts and the consequences of observation the chapters of Election Observation at a Crossroads draw on a range of methodologies rooted in deep field based research to offer detailed looks at election observation in ten African countries All of this is articulated by predominantly African country experts hailing from a variety of disciplinary and professional backgrounds all of whom are gathered together by Thomas Molony one of very few academics with extensive work experience of election observation in Africa This variety of coverage and perspectives combined with the book's various methodologies sheds new light on concerning shifts in the relationship between African organisations and their Western counterparts on questions over the credibility and independence of citizen observation groups and on assumptions about the influence of election observation on democracy in Africa Cumulatively these insights add up to important unique contributions to ongoing debates about the neo imperial dimensions of international election observation not just within Africa but also in other parts of the Global South For its sole focus on Africa its broad geographical coverage within Africa and its significance for wider debates around international election observation Election Observation at a Crossroads Perspectives from Africa is a must read for students researchers and policymakers interested in African politics and development as well as for those interested in African studies development and politics and international relations more generally

Analysis of Madness in Colonial Bengal Insan Ali,2024-11-01 Senseless Eccentric Idiotic Mental illness Abnormal Behavior and Lunatic In simple Bengali language whom we call pagal mad or insane Age after age how they were discussed or criticized in history This Book is part of extended research conducted in Bengali s folk conceptions of mental illness Here I shall explore in Bengali belief that excessive desire can have destructive consequence for the individual Conceptions of pagal has a multi cultural identity in our Bengal and paglami madness highlight the harmful role of frustrations when desire cannot be gratified Furthermore this belief is echoed in the classical Bengali and Hindi literature and throughout other area in Bengali society One of the basic questions of my research has been What is pagal In this book I presented one of the answers to this question and I want to identify the theoretical orientation that I have used in formulating such an answer In order to determine what paglami is it is necessary to delineate the moral meaning constructed by actors in the situated context of their behaviour When Bengali people identify a particular phenomenon behaviour event individual etc as being paglami they are communicating to others that certain moral meanings and a certain theory of the world apply to that phenomenon They are saying that the phenomenon possesses the property of paglami and therefore it becomes constituted as a particular kind of social object The properties that are conferred upon the phenomenon by virtue of this labelling process comprise the concept and theory of pagala and paglami Thus to discover what paglami is it is too necessary to formulate that theory and establish the properties which are asserted through the application of the label pagal and paglami Decolonizing
