Peace Journalism in East Africa Fredrick Ogenga,2019-07-01 This concise edited collection explores the practice of peace journalism in East Africa focusing specifically on the unique political and economic contexts of Uganda and Kenya The book offers a refreshing path towards transformative journalism in East Africa through imbibing pan African institutional methodological approaches and the African philosophies of Utu humanity Umoja unity and Harambee collective responsibility as news values Contributions from key academics demonstrate how media practices that are supportive of peace can prevent the escalation of conflict and promote its nonviolent resolution The chapters cumulatively represent a rich repertoire of experiences and cases that skillfully tell the story of the connections between media and peacebuilding in East Africa while also avoiding romanticizing peace journalism as an end to itself or using it as an excuse for censorship This cutting edge research book is a valuable resource for academics in journalism media studies communication peace and conflict studies and sociology

Election Observation at a Crossroads Thomas Molony,2025-09-18 This groundbreaking collection offers the first book length contribution to ongoing debates around how election observation can best support genuine democratic elections in Africa In a three part structure covering international observers their domestic counterparts and the consequences of observation the chapters of Election Observation at a Crossroads draw on a range of methodologies rooted in deep field based research to offer detailed looks at election observation in ten African countries All of this is articulated by predominantly African country experts hailing from a variety of disciplinary and professional backgrounds all of whom are gathered together by Thomas Molony one of very few academics with extensive work experience of election observation in Africa This variety of coverage and perspectives combined with the book s various methodologies sheds new light on concerning shifts in the relationship between African organisations and their Western counterparts on questions over the credibility and independence of citizen observation groups and on assumptions about the influence of election observation on democracy in Africa Cumulatively these insights add up to important unique contributions to ongoing debates about the neo imperial dimensions of international election observation not just within Africa but also in other parts of the Global South For its sole focus on Africa its broad geographical coverage within Africa and its significance for wider debates around international election observation Election Observation at a Crossroads Perspectives from Africa is a must read for students researchers and policymakers interested in African politics and development as well as for those interested in African studies development and politics and international relations more generally

Peace Journalism Principles and Practices Steven Youngblood,2016-11-03 Long time peace journalist Steven Youngblood presents the foundations of peace journalism in this exciting new textbook offering readers the methods approaches and concepts required to use journalism as a tool for peace reconciliation and development Guidance is offered on framing stories ethical treatment of sensitive subjects and avoiding polarizing stereotypes through a range of international examples and case studies spanning from the Iraq war to the recent unrest in Ferguson Missouri Youngblood teaches students to interrogate traditional media narratives about crime race politics immigration and civil unrest and to illustrate where and how a peace journalism approach can lead to more responsible and constructive coverage and even assist in the peace process itself Multisensory Flavor Perception Betina Piqueras-Fiszman, Charles Spence, 2016-04-14 Multisensory Flavor Perception From Fundamental Neuroscience Through to the Marketplace provides state of the art coverage of the latest insights from the rapidly expanding world of multisensory flavor research The book highlights the various types of crossmodal interactions such as sound and taste and vision and taste showing their impact on sensory and hedonic perception along with their consumption in the context of food and drink The chapters in this edited volume review the existing literature also explaining the underlying neural and psychological mechanisms which lead to crossmodal perception of flavor The book brings together research which has not been presented before making it the first book in the market to cover the literature of multisensory flavor perception by incorporating the latest in psychophysics and neuroscience Authored by top academics and world leaders in the field Takes readers on a journey from the neurological underpinnings of multisensory flavor perception then presenting insights that can be used by food companies to create better flavor sensations for consumers Offers a wide perspective on multisensory flavor perception an area of rapidly expanding knowledge Discourses of Globalisation and Higher Education Reforms Joseph

Zajda, W. James Jacob, 2022-03-15 This book examines some of the major higher education reforms and policy shifts globally particularly in the light of recent shifts in quality and standards driven education and policy research It critiques the neo liberal ideological imperatives of current higher education and policy reforms and illustrates the way that changes in the relationship between the state and higher education policy affect current trends in higher education reforms Using diverse comparative education paradigms from critical theory to historical comparative research the chapters focus on globalisation ideology and higher education reforms and examine both the reasons and outcomes of higher education reforms and policy change The book analyses and evaluates the policy shifts in methodological approaches to globalisation and higher education reforms and their impact on education policy and pedagogy The book contributes in a very scholarly way to a more holistic understanding of the nexus between globalisation comparative education research and higher education reforms

Information And Complexity Mark Burgin, Cristian S Calude, 2016-11-28 The book is a collection of papers of experts in the fields of information and complexity Information is a basic structure of the world while complexity is a fundamental property of systems and processes There are intrinsic relations between information and complexity The research in information theory the theory of complexity and their interrelations is very active The book will expand knowledge on information complexity and their relations representing the most recent and advanced studies and achievements in this area The goal of the book is to present the topic from different perspectives mathematical informational philosophical methodological etc Authorship and Text-making in Early China Hanmo Zhang, 2018-10-08 This book is a timely response to a rather urgent call to seek an updated methodology in rereading and reappraising early Chinese texts in light of newly discovered early writings For a long time the concept of authorship in the formation and transmission of early Chinese texts has been misunderstood The nominal author who should mainly function as a guide to text formation and interpretation is considered retrospectively as the originator and writer of the text This book illustrates that although some notions about the text as the author's property began to appear in some Eastern Han texts a strict correlation between the author and the text results from later conceptions of literary history Before the modern era there existed a conceptual gap between an author and a writer A pre modern Chinese text could have had both an author and a writer or even multiple authors and multiple writers This work is the first study addressing these issues by more systematically emphasizing the connection of the text the author and the religious and sociopolitical settings in which these issues were embedded It is expected to constitute a palpable contribution to Chinese studies and the discipline of philology in general

Blood and Dirt Jared Davidson, Picture for a minute every artwork of colonial New Zealand you can think of Now add a chain gang Hard labour men guarded by other men with guns Men moving heavy metal Men picking at the earth Over and over again This was the reality of nineteenth century New Zealand Forced labour haunts the streets we walk today and the spaces we take for granted The unfree work of prisoners has shaped New Zealand's urban centres and rural landscapes and Te Moana nui a Kiwa the Pacific in profound and unsettling ways Yet these stories are largely unknown a hidden history in plain sight Blood and Dirt explains for the first time the making of New Zealand and its Pacific empire through the prism of prison labour Jared Davidson asks us to look beyond the walls of our nineteenth and early twentieth century prisons to see penal practice as playing an active central role in the creation of modern New Zealand Journeying from the Hoki mission station in the Bay of Islands through to Milford Sound vast forest plantations and on to Parliament itself this vivid and engaging book will change the way you view New Zealand

Hammack, 2018-02-15 The twentieth century witnessed not only the devastation of war conflict and injustice on a massive scale but it also saw the emergence of social psychology as a discipline committed to addressing these and other social problems In the 21st century however the promise of social psychology remains incomplete We have witnessed the reprise of authoritarianism and the endurance of institutionalized forms of oppression such as sexism racism and heterosexism across the globe Edited by Phillip L Hammack The Oxford Handbook of Social Psychology and Social Justice reorients social psychology toward the study of social injustice in real world settings The volume s contributing authors effectively span the borders between cultures and disciplines to better highlight new and emerging critical paradigms that interrogate the very real consequences of social injustice United in their belief in the possibility of liberation from oppression with this Handbook Hammack and his contributors offer a stirring blueprint for a new important kind of social psychology today Artificial Life and Evolutionary Computation Johannes Josef Schneider, Mathias Sebastian Weyland, Dandolo Flumini, Rudolf Marcel Fuchsli, 2023-01-21 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 15th Italian Workshop on Artificial Life and Evolutionary Computation WIVACE 2021 held in Winterthur Switzerland in September 2022 The 14 full papers and 10 short papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 25 submissions The papers are organized in the following topical sections Networks Droplets Fluids and Synthetic Biology Robot Systems Computer Vision and Computational Creativity Semantic Search Artificial Medicine and Pharmacy Trade and Finance Ethics in Computational Modelling Chapters 4 5 6 7 22 and 24 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com Reimagining Academic Activism Ruth Weatherall, 2023-05-09 Based on deep ethnographic research this book explores new practices and ideas about activism in the fight against social inequality Three Streams P. J. Ivanhoe, 2016 Recent interest in Confucianism has a tendency to suffer from essentialism and idealism manifested in a variety of ways One example is to think of Confucianism in terms of the views attributed to one representative of the tradition such as Kongzi Confucius 551 479 BCE or Mengzi Mencius 372 289 BCE or one school or strand of the tradition most often the strand or tradition associated with Mengzi or in the later tradition that formed around the commentaries and interpretation of Zhu Xi 1130 1200 Another such tendency is to think of Confucianism in terms of its manifestations in only one country this is almost always China for the obvious reasons that China is one of the most powerful and influential states in the world today A third tendency is to present Confucianism in terms of only one period or moment in the tradition for example among ethical and political philosophers pre Qin Confucianism usually taken to be the writings attributed to Kongzi Mengzi and if we are lucky Xunzi 479 221 BCE often is taken as Confucianism These and other forms of essentialism and idealism have led to a widespread and deeply entrenched impression that Confucianism is thoroughly homogenous and monolithic these often are facts mustered to support the purportedly oppressive authoritarian and constricted nature of the tradition such impressions can be found throughout East Asia and dominate in the West This is quite deplorable for it gives us no genuine sense of the creatively rich philosophically powerful highly variegated and still very much open ended nature of the Confucian tradition This volume addresses this misconstrual and misrepresentation of Confucianism by presenting a philosophically critical account of different Confucian thinkers and schools across place China Korea and Japan and time the 10th to 19th centuries

Handbook of Research on Managing the Urban-Rural Divide Through an Inclusive Framework Popoola, Ayobami Abayomi, Magidimisha-Chipungu, Hangwelani Hope, Chipungu, Lovemore, 2023-02-10 In recent years the growing disparities between rural and urban areas in developing countries have been a cause of major concern The rural urban gap remains the single most well documented development and welfare disparity in the developing world This gap can be seen in the low economic activities higher poverty levels and lower quality infrastructure and services in rural areas as opposed to urban areas While the magnitude of this rural urban divide is well documented very little has been documented about its impact on inclusive and sustainable urban development The Handbook of Research on Managing the Urban Rural Divide Through an Inclusive Framework aims to capture the spatial and socio economic divide between rural and urban areas and provides a road map to revamping the discussion that surrounds the urban rural sphere Covering key topics such as development food security and rural regions this premier reference source is ideal for policymakers government officials industry professionals researchers academicians practitioners scholars instructors and students

Languages, scripts, and Chinese texts in East Asia Peter Francis Kornicki, 2018-01-19 Chinese Writing and the Rise of the Vernacular in East Asia is a wide ranging study of vernacularization in East Asia not only China Japan Korea and Vietnam but also societies that no longer exist such as the Tangut and Khitan empires Peter Kornicki takes the reader from the early centuries of the common era when the Chinese script was the only form of writing and Chinese Buddhist Confucian and medical texts spread throughout East Asia through the centuries when vernacular scripts evolved right up to the end of the nineteenth century when nationalism created new roles for vernacular languages and vernacular scripts Through an examination of oral approaches to Chinese texts it shows how highly valued Chinese texts came to be read through the prism of the vernaculars and ultimately to be translated This long process has some parallels with vernacularization in Europe but a crucial difference is that literary Chinese was unlike Latin not a spoken language As a consequence people who spoke different East Asian vernaculars had no means of communicating in speech but they could communicate silently by means of written conversation in literary Chinese a further consequence is that within each society Chinese texts assumed vernacular garb in classes and lectures Chinese texts were read and declaimed in the vernaculars What happened in the nineteenth century and why are there still so many different scripts in East Asia How and why were Chinese texts dethroned and what replaced them These are some of the questions addressed in Chinese Writing and the Rise of the Vernacular in East Asia

Archaeological Perspectives on Conflict and Warfare in Australia and the Pacific Geoffrey Clark, Mirani Litster, 2022-03-08 When James Boswell famously lamented the irrationality of war in 1777 he noted the universality of conflict across history and across space even reaching what he described as the gentle and benign southern ocean nations This volume discusses archaeological evidence of conflict from those southern oceans from Palau and Guam to Australia Vanuatu and Tonga the Marquesas Easter Island and New Zealand The evidence for conflict and warfare encompasses defensive earthworks on Palau fortifications on Tonga and intricate pa sites in New Zealand It reports evidence of reciprocal sacrifice to appease deities in several island nations and skirmishes and smaller scale conflicts including in Easter Island This volume traces aspects of colonial era conflict in Australia and frontier battles in Vanuatu and discusses depictions of World War II materiel in the rock art of Arnhem Land Among the causes and motives discussed in these papers are pressure on resources the ebb and flow of significant climate events and the significant association of conflict with culture contact The volume necessarily selective eclectic and wide ranging includes an incisive introduction that situates the evidence persuasively in the broader scholarship addressing the history of human warfare

Dangerous Fishes of New Zealand Laith A. Jawad, 2024-10-22

Among the aims of the present book is to educate locals about the danger of this group of fishes as part of a public education and awareness program that should be initiated in the coastal areas. It is therefore important to identify and assess the hazards posed by various fishes in each region and bring the results to public attention. In addition, at locations where hazards involving dangerous fish have been identified, procedures should be developed for treating any injuries sustained. This book will be a reference book to both Academic and students in different disciplines of knowledge to use in their research on fishes of New Zealand and the Pacific. The scholars interested in fish fauna of New Zealand will use this book as a guide to compare the dangerous fish fauna of New Zealand with those of the other parts of The Pacific regions.
