Ancient Egyptian Jewellery Alix Wilkinson, 2016-10-18 First published in 1971 this book was the first major survey ever made in this field It includes all the main museum collections in the world and enables comparative study of almost all the known jewellery from predynastic times to the end of the XXVIth Dynasty 525 B C to be made The jewellery of the ancient Egyptian civilization was of a delicacy and magnificence seldom rivalled much has been learned by comparing the jewels themselves and the techniques and materials of those who made them But this book draws also on other branches of Egyptian art since paintings and sculpture sometimes provide evidence showing how the jewellery was made and worn Each section opens with a brief history of the period reviewed and an account of the manner in which the individual jewels were discovered both of which help those readers unfamiliar with Egyptological matters The key pieces are described in detail and the text is generously illustrated with line drawings and plates An indispensable reference book for all those with an interest in the art of ancient Egypt

The Iconography of Humiliation in New Kingdom Egypt Mark D. Janzen, 2024-11-26 This volume analyzes the iconography of bound foreigners on New Kingdom monuments and artifacts to better understand Egyptian perspectives on foreigners and their treatment of prisoners of war Depictions of foreign captives in humiliating or torturous poses are ubiquitous in Egyptian iconography and reflect the celebratory nature of royal ideology in this case by degrading enemies Egyptologists have scrutinized these scenes for details regarding various military matters but existing scholarly literature offers few studies focused on enemy captives and the sheer physical brutality of the depictions of their bindings Janzen examines the bound foreigner motif in New Kingdom sources demonstrating that these prisoners of war played vital roles in Egyptian ideology and religion Their depictions in bizarre or torturous poses served to reinforce ideological underpinnings of pharaoh's right to rule perpetually ritualizing their defeat and or punishment through the presence of this iconography on ceremonial objects used primarily by the king and on temple walls and monuments The subjugation of foreigners also constituted an important economic function as incorporating prisoners of war into the Egyptian workforce was crucial for economic prosperity and growth in New Kingdom Egypt The volume also explores cross cultural and anthropological parallels placing Egyptian treatment of foreign prisoners in its ancient context The book provides a fascinating study of the subject suitable for scholars and students of Egyptology and ancient history particularly that of New Kingdom Egypt as well as those working on power warfare and violence in the ancient world more broadly

Crafting Minoanisation Joanne Elizabeth Cutler, 2021-10-31 The mid second millennium BC material record of the southern Aegean shows evidence of strong Cretan influence. This phenomenon has traditionally been seen in terms of Minoanisation but the nature and degree of Cretan influence and the processes by which it was spread and adopted have been widely debated. This new study addresses the question of Minoanisation through a study of the adoption of Cretan technologies in the wider southern Aegean principally weaving technology. By the early Late Bronze Age Cretan style discoid loom weights had appeared at a number of settlements across the southern Aegean. In most cases this represents not only the adoption of a particular type of loom weight but also the introduction of a new weaving technology the use of the warp weighted loom. The evidence for and the implications of the adoption of this new technology is examined. Drawing upon recent advances in textile experimental archaeology the types of textiles that are likely to have been produced at a range of sites both on Crete itself and in the wider southern Aegean are discussed and the likely nature and scale of textile production at the various settlements is assessed. A consideration of the evidence for the timing and extent of the adoption of Cretan weaving technology in the light of additional evidence for the adoption of other Cretan technologies is used to gain insight into the potential social and economic strategies engaged in by various groups across the southern Aegean as well as the motivations that may have driven the adoption and adaptation of Cretan cultural traits and accompanying behaviors. By examining how technological skills and techniques are learned and considering possible mechanisms for the transmission of such technical knowledge and know how new perspectives can be proposed concerning the processes through which Cretan techniques were taken up and imitated abroad
