Organic Chemistry Michael B. Smith, 2011-06-29 Based on the premise that many if not most reactions in organic chemistry can be explained by variations of fundamental acid base concepts Organic Chemistry An Acid Base Approach provides a framework for understanding the subject that goes beyond mere memorization The individual steps in many important mechanisms rely on acid base reactions and the ability to see these relationships makes understanding organic chemistry easier Using several techniques to develop a relational understanding this textbook helps students fully grasp the essential concepts at the root of organic chemistry Providing a practical learning experience with numerous opportunities for self testing the book contains Checklists of what students need to know before they begin to study a topic Checklists of concepts to be fully understood before moving to the next subject area Homework problems directly tied to each concept at the end of each chapter Embedded problems with answers throughout the material Experimental details and mechanisms for key reactions The reactions and mechanisms contained in the book describe the most fundamental concepts that are used in industry biological chemistry and biochemistry molecular biology and pharmacy The concepts presented constitute the fundamental basis of life processes making them critical to the study of medicine Reflecting this emphasis most chapters end with a brief section that describes biological applications for each concept This text provides students with the skills to proceed to the next level of study offering a fundamental understanding of acids and bases applied to organic transformations and organic molecules Active Learning: Theoretical Perspectives, Empirical Studies and Design Profiles Robert Cassidy, Elizabeth S. Charles, James D. Slotta, Nathaniel Lasry, 2019-07-11 This book represents the emerging efforts of a growing international network of researchers and practitioners to promote the development and uptake of evidence based pedagogies in higher education at something a level approaching large scale impact By offering a communication venue that attracts and enhances much needed partnerships among practitioners and researchers in pedagogical innovation we aim to change the conversation and focus on how we work and learn together i e extending the implementation and knowledge of co design methods In this first edition of our Research Topic on Active Learning we highlight two of the three types of publications we wish to promote First are studies aimed at understanding the pedagogical designs developed by practitioners in their own practices by bringing to bear the theoretical lenses developed and tested in the education research community These types of studies constitute the practice pull that we see as a necessary counterbalance to knowledge push in a more productive pedagogical innovation ecosystem based on research practitioner partnerships Second are studies empirically examining the implementations of evidence based designs in naturalistic settings and under naturalistic conditions Interestingly the teams conducting these studies are already exemplars of partnerships between researchers and practitioners who are uniquely positioned as in between straddling the two worlds As a result these publications represent both the rigours of research and the pragmatism of reflective practice In forthcoming editions we will add to this collection a third type of publication design profiles These will present practitioner developed pedagogical designs at varying levels of abstraction to be held to scrutiny amongst practitioners instructional designers and researchers alike We hope by bringing these types of studies together in an open access format that we may contribute to the development of new forms of practitioner researcher interactions that promote co design in pedagogical innovation
