2 He wants to do some climbing but not anything too difficult.
3 Yes.
4 He wants to stop somewhere to buy lunch.
- b) 7 Anna wants a walk by the sea that also provides her with some good views. She would like to do a little climbing and she is interested in seeing some local wildlife.
8 Hiro wants a fairly short walk on a path that is easy to follow and doesn't involve any climbing. He wants to stop somewhere to buy lunch and also visit a place of historical interest.
9 Maya is an experienced walker and can easily follow a map. She wants a long walk that involves a lot of climbing and also takes her through wooded countryside.
10 Toby wants a walk by the sea that doesn't involve any climbing. He would like a route that is easy to follow and he also wants to visit a building of historical interest.
- 3
a) 1 B, D, G and H are long walks.
2 D, G and H are long walks that involve some climbing.
3 H is the only long walk with some climbing that has an historical building.
4 H
b) 1 There is a 'gentle' climb up to Bixdee.
2 There is a range of restaurants.

Reading Part 2 key

- 6 H
7 E The walk is along the coast and there are views from the top of the cliffs. There are also many sea birds here.
8 A The walk is on level ground so there is no climbing. You can also visit Braemore House where there is a café.
9 D The route is not marked and there is some steep climbing. The walk passes through a forest.
10 C The walk is on flat ground along the coast and includes Corfe Castle.

Globalisation and Education Bob Lingard, 2020-10-28 This collection focuses on education policy in the context of globalisation and draws together influential research dealing with the interplay between education policy and globalisation Globalisation and neo liberalism in relation to education policy are addressed as is the impact of the global financial crisis the recent rise of ethno nationalism and progressive challenges to neo liberal hegemony A number of chapters deal with the new spatialities instantiated by globalisation s new technology and consider the implications for education policy Also discussed are global policy actors such as the OECD EU and edu businesses in education policy the significance of international large scale assessments to an emergent global policy field refugees and education English language policy and globalisation off shore schools and the importance of affect in policy in the context of globalisation The collection closes with two methodological contributions that consider the implications of globalisation in today s critical education policy analysis The collection is brought together in a substantial introduction that traverses the literature and research on globalisation and education policy and also situates the chapters and approaches in the collection within the field. The chapters in this book were originally published as articles in various Taylor and Francis journals. Learning to Love the Bomb Sean M. Maloney, 2007. In Learning to Love the Bomb Sean M. Maloney explores the controversial subject of Canada's acquisition of nuclear weapons during the Cold War. Based on newly declassified Canadian and U.S. documents it examines policy, strategy, operational and technical matters and weaves these seemingly disparate elements into a compelling story that finally unlocks several Cold War mysteries. For example, while U.S. military forces during the 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis were focused on the Caribbean Sea and the southeastern United States, Canadian forces assumed responsibility for defending the northern United States with aircraft armed with nuclear depth charges flying patrols and guarding against missile attack by Soviet submarines. This defensive strategy was a closely guarded secret because it conflicted with Canada's image as a peacekeeper and therefore a more passive member of NATO than its ally to the south. It is revealed here for the first time. The place of nuclear weapons in Canadian history has until now been a highly secret and misunderstood field, subject to rumor, rhetoric, half truths and propaganda. Learning to Love the Bomb reveals the truth about Canada's role as a nuclear power.

MasterClass in History Education Christine Counsell, Katharine Burn, Arthur Chapman, 2016-10-06. MasterClass in History Education draws on international research and practice to present effective and engaging approaches for history teachers who want to explore the ways in which reading research and reflection can support the development of history teaching and learning in the classroom. At the heart of the book is a series of professional enquiries carried out by experienced history teachers working in a range of contexts. Each history teacher addresses clear questions arising from their practice and together they illustrate various approaches to data collection, data analysis and argument. These history teachers also show how they drew on diverse scholarship in history and history education, including many publications by other history teachers. In eight further chapters, other experts ranging from practitioner scholars to researchers in diverse fields such as history, history education, teacher education, teacher research and curriculum theory reflect on the distinctive insights that these teachers offer and explore connections with their own fields. The combination of perspectives and the depth of knowledge of the varied contributors reveal the importance of different kinds of relationship between theory and practice The links between classroom realities and research and the critical use of different kinds of text will support history teachers in developing their practice and professional voice
