2. The Administrative Structure of the Rajputs:

Practice Zone 2

1. The Chola administration was best during the medieval times as the administration of the Cholas was very clearly structured.
2. The Cholas took special interest in promoting art, architecture and sculpture. In Chola sculpture, first a wax model of the sculpture was made. This model was put into a mould. Then the mould was imposed on bronze or stone. This method is called the lost wax process. As far as architecture was concerned, Cholas built many temples. The Brihadeshwara temple with a 61 m high tower is an architectural marvel. Other Shiva temples like Gangaikondacholapuram and Airavateshwara are adorned with beautiful bronze sculptures depicting Shiva in his various incarnations.
