1. Use Target Reading Skills: Practice reading questions and answers carefully.

How are scientists using data to understand life?

Answer: Scientists are comparing different foods, water, shelter, and other things to decide how the environment affects life.

Detail: Each organism needs food in a specific type of environment, called its habitat.

Detail: Organisms live in different habitats because they have different requirements for survival.

Detail: They also may compete among habitats.

Studying Populations (Global Reading and Study)

Use Target Reading Skills: Practice reading questions and answers carefully.

How do you determine population size? (How scientists do determine populations size are direct observations, indirect observations, sampling, and mark-and-recapture studies.) What causes populations to change in size?

Answer: Factors include birth, death, immigration, and emigration.

What are limiting factors? (What are factors that can limit population growth if they are unfavorable for the organisms in the population. Food and water, space, and weather conditions can be limiting factors.)
