Environmental Hazards in the Arabian Gulf Region Abd el-aziz Khairy Abd el-aal,Abdullah Al-Enezi,Qusaie E. Karam,2024-12-03 This book discusses the environmental hazards in the Gulf countries GCC The publication of this book is of great importance to all those interested and knowledgeable in the field Climate change leads to the occurrence of major environmental hazards that must be reduced by estimating the extent of climate change and developing appropriate solutions to mitigate those effects Climate changes are produced indirectly as a result of human activities with uncalculated consequences The process of climate change is always accompanied by catastrophic environmental problems such as global warming high temperatures storms hurricanes floods desertification processes air pollution and the extinction of many types and forms of animals and plants The Gulf countries are located in the eastern part of the Arabian Peninsula where the crude oil is extracted in several fields The states suffer from many environmental problems as a result of its geographical location global climate change and also from oil extraction operations The problems include high temperatures induced earthquakes and pollution in the soil and marine coast as well as desertification processes sand dunes movement and other environmental problems Earthquakes are also recorded from and near the oil fields indicating the link between the oil extraction process and the occurrence of earthquakes Indeed the environmental studies published in the Gulf state are very few and do not meet the need of the scientific community in region which need more important environmental publications that help in the great and rapid urban developments in the area

The Oxford Handbook of European Islam Jocelyne Cesari,2015

For centuries Muslim countries and Europe have engaged one another through theological dialogues diplomatic missions political rivalries and power struggles In the last thirty years due in large part to globalization and migration from Islamic countries to the West what was previously an engagement across national and cultural boundaries has increasingly become an internalized encounter within Europe itself Questions of the Hijab in schools freedom of expression in the wake of the Danish Cartoon crisis and the role of Shari a have come to the forefront of contemporary European discourse The Oxford Handbook of European Islam is the first collection to present a comprehensive approach to the multiple and changing ways Islam has been studied across European countries Parts one to three address the state of knowledge of Islam and Muslims within a selection of European countries while presenting a critical view of the most up to date data specific to each country These chapters analyze the immigration cycles and policies related to the presence of Muslims tackling issues such as discrimination post colonial identity adaptation and assimilation The thematic chapters in parts four and five examine secularism radicalization Shari a Hijab and Islamophobia with the goal of synthesizing different national discussion into a more comparative theoretical framework The Handbook attempts to balance cutting edge assessment with the knowledge that the content itself will eventually be superseded by events Featuring eighteen newly commissioned essays by noted scholars in the field this volume will provide an excellent resource for students and scholars interested in European Studies immigration Islamic studies and the sociology of religion
