Whose History? Linda Symcox, 2002 In the 1990s the debate over what history and more importantly whose history should be taught in American schools resonated through the halls of Congress the national press and the nation's schools Politicians such as Lynne Cheney Newt Gingrich and Senator Slade Gorton and pundits such as Rush Limbaugh John Leo and Charles Krauthammer fiercely denounced the findings of the National Standards for History which subsequently became a major battleground in the nation's ongoing struggle to define its historical identity To help us understand what happened Linda Symcox traces the genealogy of the National History Standards Project from its origins as a neo conservative reform movement to the drafting of the Standards through the 18 months of controversy and the debate that ensued and the aftermath Broad in scope this case study includes debates on social history world history multiculturalism established canons national identity cultural history and liberal education Symcox brilliantly illuminates the larger issue of how educational policy is made and contested in the United States revealing how a debate about our children's education actually became a struggle between competing political forces

Asia in Western and World History: A Guide for Teaching Ainslie T. Embree, Carol Gluck, 2015-05-20 A guide aimed at introducing students to the history of Asia in conjunction with Western and world history Southeast European Studies in a Globalizing World Christian Promitzer, Siegfried Gruber, Harald Heppner, 2014 Since the early 1990s Southeast European studies have undergone profound changes being shaped by the wars of Yugoslav succession and the ramifications of post socialism coupled with democratic deficiencies which characterize most of Southeast Europe The countries which it encompasses rest uneasily on the periphery of the developed variant of Western capitalism but they have nonetheless to contend with the challenges of adjusting to a market economy The imprint of these contexts on academic research has led to a discussion of the role of Southeast European studies It is the task of this volume to summarize and raise awareness of this discussion Series Studies on South East Europe Vol 16 Subject European Studies Sociology Politics Prentice-Hall Business Digest Service ,1918 Religion Dans L'histoire Michel Despland, Gérard Vallée, Canadian Corporation for Studies in Religion, 1992-03-03 The history of the concept of religion in Western tradition has intrigued scholars for years This important collection of eighteen essays brings further light to the ongoing debate Three of the invited participants W C Smith M Despland and E Feil has each previously written impressive books treating this subject the last two acknowledged the impact and continuing influence of Smith s work The Meaning and End of Religion An introduction and a recapitulation of Smith s contribution as a scholar set the stage for a retrospective look at the published literature Contributors then examine the transformation of words the classical religio to the modern religion particularities of religion in nineteenth century France Troeltsch s concept of religion the study of religion from an Asian point of view and the categorization of World Religions The concluding essays elaborate contemporary anthropological cross disciplinary semiological deconstructive and psychoanalytical methodological approaches to the concept and study of religion Exploring critically different aspects of the concept and study of religion these provocative essays typically reflect the methodological pluralism currently existing in the field of Religious Studies Of interest to scholars and students alike this collection also contains a complete bibliography of W C Smith s publications Tensions of Social History Alessandro Stanziani, 2022-12-15 This book seeks to overcome the tension between western and non western categories and tools in the study of global history showing how most western approaches to the social sciences and history have developed through transnational and colonial interactions Offering a transnational and global history of the main tools we have to understand the word and its transformations over the last three centuries Tensions of Social History explores the construction of archives and historical memory the making of statistics and their use in politics the identification of social actors and the emergence of key social theories Providing key insights into how to write history and develop social sciences in the global era while avoiding eurocentrism and cultural exceptionalism this ambitious book shows how global history is made of encounters rather than confrontations between civilizations
