flawed ideal has hobbled the study of maps Susan Schulten author of A History of America in 100 Maps Over the past four decades the volumes published in the landmark History of Cartography series have both chronicled and encouraged scholarship about maps and mapping practices across time and space As the current director of the project that has produced these volumes Matthew H Edney has a unique vantage point for understanding what cartography has come to mean and include In this book Edney disavows the term cartography rejecting the notion that maps represent an undifferentiated category of objects for study Rather than treating maps as a single unified group he argues scholars need to take a processual approach that examines specific types of maps sea charts versus thematic maps for example in the context of the unique circumstances of their production circulation and consumption To illuminate this bold argument Edney chronicles precisely how the ideal of cartography that has developed in the West since 1800 has gone astray By exposing the flaws in this ideal his book challenges everyone who studies maps and mapping practices to reexamine their approach to the topic The study of cartography will never be the same An intellectually bracing and marvellously provocative account of how the mythical ideal of cartography developed over time and in the process distorted our understanding of maps Times Higher Education Cartography The Ideal and Its History offers both a sharp critique of current practice and a call to reorient the field of map studies A landmark contribution K ren Wigen coeditor of Time in Maps Strategies for Building Academic Vocabulary in Social Studies Christine Dugan,2010-01-01 Boost students social studies vocabulary with easy to implement effective strategies Sample lessons using each strategy are included for grade spans 1 2 3 5 and 6 8 using vocabulary words from standards based content specific units of study Each strategy also includes suggestions for differentiating instruction Each notebook includes 25 research based strategies differentiation suggestions for each strategy assessment strategies sample word lists including both specialized content and general academic words and parent letters in both English and Spanish Also included is a Teacher Resource CD with PDFs of resource pages word lists assessment pages and parent letters 280pp Educating Democratic Citizens in Troubled Times Janet S.
