World Of Art Textbook:

A World of Art Henry M. Sayre, 2012 Henry Sayre's art appreciation text The World of Art is an amazing introduction to the world of art. Students with little background in the arts routinely reach out to Henry to share how the text has influenced their lives. This is so meaningful because Henry's inspiration for A World of Art was his own students. His students wanted to see themselves reflected in their textbook. Henry decided to write an art appreciation textbook that represented all artists, not just the Western canon found at that time in the other texts. He also created a text that fostered critical thinking through looking at, talking about, and questioning works of art for his students. The result was A World of Art, and the new seventh edition continues to build on those two themes: coverage of contemporary global art and a strong critical thinking framework throughout the text. This edition includes new ways for students to experience art with the new MyArtsLab, which includes ART 21 videos, Discovering Art simulations, Closer Look tours, and an eText of Writing about Art, also by Henry Sayre. Noted author and educator Henry Sayre teaches students how to ask the right questions about the visual world that surrounds us and to then respond meaningfully to the complexity of that world. New to the eighth edition, seven thematic chapters help students better identify and understand major themes of art, such as the cycle of life and the body, gender, and identity, that transcend different eras and regions. Also available with MyArtsLab. MyArtsLab for the Art Appreciation course extends learning online to engage students and improve results. Media resources with assignments bring concepts to life and offer students opportunities to practice applying what they've learned. features new research on Russia's historic relationship with Asia and the ways it was mediated and represented in the fine decorative and performing arts and architecture from the mid eighteenth century to the first two decades of Soviet rule. It interrogates how Russia's perception of its position on the periphery of the west and its simultaneous self-consciousness as a colonial power shaped its artistic cultural and national identity as a heterogeneous multi-ethnic empire. It also explores the extent to which cultural practitioners participated in the discursive matrices that advanced Russia's colonial machinery on the one hand and critiqued and challenged it on the other especially in territories that were themselves on the fault lines between the east and the west.

We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger, 2022-10-04 A richly illustrated history of self-taught artists and how they changed American art. Artists without formal training who learned from family, community and personal journeys have long been a presence in American art. But it wasn't until the 1980s with the help of trailblazing advocates that the collective force of their creative vision and bold self-definition permanently changed the mainstream art world. In We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger traces the rise of self-taught artists in the twentieth century and examines how despite wide-ranging societal racial and gender-based obstacles they redefined who could be rightfully seen as an artist and revealed a much more diverse community of American makers. Lavishly illustrated throughout We Are Made of Stories features more than one hundred drawings, paintings and sculptures ranging from the narrative to the abstract by forty-three artists including James Castle, Thornton Dial, William Edmondson, Howard Finster, Bessie Harvey, Dan Miller, Sister Gertrude Morgan, the Philadelphia Wireman, Nellie Mae Rowe, Judith Scott and Bill Traylor. The book centralizes the personal stories behind the art and explores enduring themes including self-definition, cultural heritage, struggle and joy and inequity and achievement. At the same time it offers a sweeping history of self-taught artists, the critical debates surrounding their art and how museums have gradually diversified their collections across lines of race, gender, class and ability. Recasting American art history to embrace artists who have been excluded for too long We Are Made of Stories vividly captures the power of art to show us the world through the eyes of another.
