

Step 1 of 1

Welcome to the Sports & Entertainment mogul project.

Your goal is to make $5 million profit during a season. You control all aspects of your stadium and football team. You can pick and book bands to increase your profit.

It will most likely take you more than one season to achieve your goal. As your team wins more games, more fans will come! Also, with each new season, you will have the opportunity to book bigger and bigger concert acts!

Good luck!

Goal: $5 million profit for a single season.

Mega-Projects Alan A. Altshuler,David E. Luberoff,2004-05-13 A Brookings Institution Press and Lincoln Institute of Land Policy publication Since the demise of urban renewal in the early 1970s the politics of large scale public investment in and around major American cities has received little scholarly attention In Mega Projects Alan Altshuler and David Luberoff analyze the unprecedented wave of large scale mega public investments that occurred in American cities during the 1950s and 1960s the social upheavals they triggered which derailed large numbers of projects during the late 1960s and early 1970s and the political impulses that have shaped a new generation of urban mega projects in the decades since They also appraise the most important consequences of policy shifts over this half century and draw out common themes from the rich variety of programmatic and project developments that they chronicle The authors integrate narratives of national as well as state and local policymaking and of mobilization by mainly local project advocates with a profound examination of how well leading theories of urban politics explain the observed realities The specific cases they analyze include a wide mix of transportation and downtown revitalization projects drawn from numerous regions most notably Boston Denver Los Angeles New York City Chicago Atlanta Dallas Portland and Seattle While their original research focuses on highway airport and rail transit programs and projects they draw as well on the work of others to analyze the politics of public investment in urban renewal downtown retailing convention centers and professional sports facilities In comparing their findings with leading theories of urban and American politics Altshuler and Luberoff arrive at some surprising findings about which perform best and also reveal some important gaps in the literature as a whole In a concluding chapter they examine the potential effects of new fiscal pressures business mobilization to relax environmental constraints and security concerns in the wake of September 11 And they make clear their own views about how best to achieve a balance between developmental environmental and democratic values in public investment decisionmaking Integrating fifty years of urban development history with leading theories of urban and American politics Mega Projects provides significant new insights into urban and intergovernmental politics

Scouting and Scoring Christopher J. Phillips, 2021-03-30 An in depth look at the intersection of judgment and statistics in baseball Scouting and scoring are considered fundamentally different ways of ascertaining value in baseball Scouting seems to rely on experience and intuition scoring on performance metrics and statistics In Scouting and Scoring Christopher Phillips rejects these simplistic divisions He shows how both scouts and scorers rely on numbers bureaucracy trust and human labor to make sound judgments about the value of baseball players Tracing baseball s story from the nineteenth century to today Phillips explains that the sport was one of the earliest fields to introduce numerical analysis and new methods of data collection were supposed to enable teams to replace scouting with scoring But that s not how things turned out From the invention of official scorers and Statcast to the creation of the Major League Scouting Bureau Scouting and Scoring reveals the inextricable connections between human expertise and data science and offers an entirely fresh understanding of baseball
