Huggan,2013-08-22 Today's celebrity conservationists many of whom made their reputations through television and other visual media play a major role in drawing public attention to an increasingly threatened world This book one of the first to address this contribution focuses on five key figures the English naturalist David Attenborough the French marine adventurer Jacques Yves Cousteau the American primatologist Dian Fossey the Canadian scientist broadcaster activist David Suzuki and the Australian crocodile hunter Steve Irwin Some of the issues the author addresses include What is the changing relationship between western conservation and celebrity How has the spread of television helped shape and mediate this relationship To what extent can celebrity conservation be seen as part of a global system in which conservation like celebrity is big business The book critically examines the heroic status accorded to the five figures mentioned above taking in the various discourses around nature science nation gender through which they and their work have been presented to us In doing so it fills in the cultural historical and ideological background behind contemporary celebrity conservationism as a popular expression of a chronically endangered world Cumulated Index Medicus ,1965 Who Owns Whom ,1999

International Commerce ,1968 Pesticides - Agronomic Application and Environmental Impact Kassio Ferreira Mendes,2024-03-13 Pesticides Agronomic Application and Environmental Impact is a seminal work that navigates the delicate balance between the indispensable role of pesticides in modern agriculture and the critical need for environmental preservation In an era where food security and ecological sustainability are paramount this book emerges as a beacon of knowledge and understanding This volume encapsulates a comprehensive exploration of the world of pesticides shedding light on their vital function in ensuring crop health and abundance It addresses the core concerns surrounding the application of these chemicals highlighting innovative approaches and strategies to reduce their ecological impact The reader is guided through the intricacies of pesticide chemistry application techniques and the latest developments in minimizing environmental risks. Crafted with the expertise of leading professionals in the field, this book offers a holistic view of the subject matter. It is designed to cater to the interests of a diverse readership including agricultural practitioners, environmental scientists, policymakers, and students. The content is rich with information yet accessible, making it an invaluable resource for anyone seeking to understand the interplay between agricultural productivity and environmental stewardship. The advantage of this book lies in its balanced perspective. It does not shy away from discussing the challenges and controversies surrounding pesticide use. Instead, it offers well-rounded insights and potential solutions, contributing significantly to the ongoing dialogue in this critical area. Pesticides: Agronomic Application and Environmental Impact stands as a testament to the possibility of harmonizing human agricultural needs with the imperative of ecological conservation, making it a must-read for those who are navigating these complex and essential topics. Popular Photography, 1990-08

Setsuko Komatsu, Jesus V. Jorri n-Novo, 2021-04-29 The Special Issue Plant Proteomics 3.0 was conceived in an attempt to address the recent advancements in as well as limitations of current proteomic techniques and their diverse applications to attain new insights into plant molecular responses to various biotic and abiotic stressors and the molecular bases of other processes. Proteomics focus is also related to translational purposes including food traceability and allergen detection. In addition, bioinformatic techniques are needed for more confident identification, quantitation, data analysis, and networking, especially with non-model or orphan plants including medicinal and meditative plants as well as forest tree species. This Special Issue contains 23 articles including four reviews and 19 original papers
