Documenting Violence in Calderón's Mexico Jessica Wax-Edwards, 2023 An analysis of how artists filmmakers and affected citizens in Mexico attempted to navigate articulate and contend with the unparalleled escalation in brutality during the presidency of Felipe Calderón 2006 2012 In Mexico during the presidency of Felipe Calderón 2006 2012 and as a direct result of his war on drugs at least 60 000 people were killed tens of thousands were disappeared and countless more were subjected to kidnapping and sexual violence This book analyses how artists and filmmakers alongside affected citizens attempted to navigate articulate and contend with this unparalleled escalation in brutality The texts studied here provide a critical visual archive of this first phase in the drug war and show how artists including Pedro Pardo Fernando Brito Mónica González and Natalia Almada attempted to challenge official narratives foster emerging nodes of resistance and seek justice for citizens Bringing together works of photography photojournalism documentary and short fiction cinema the book argues for the vital role of cultural production in documenting institutional corruption human rights abuses and narco related violence in Mexican society and providing a space to grieve and remember the victims As Mexico's socio political landscape continues to deteriorate the book shows how its visual cultural legacy provides a means of understanding and responding to the violence

The Performance Complex David Stark, 2020-07-10 What's valuable Market competition provides one kind of answer Competitions offer another On one side competition is an ongoing and seemingly endless process of pricings on the other competitions are discrete and bounded in time and location with entry rules judges scores and prizes This book examines what happens when ever more activities in domains of everyday life are evaluated and experienced in terms of performance metrics Unlike organized competitions such systems are ceaseless and without formal entry Instead of producing resolutions their scorings create addictions To understand these developments this book explores discrete contests architectural competitions international music competitions and world press photo competitions shows how the continuous updating of rankings is both a device for navigating the social world and an engine of anxiety and examines the production of such anxiety in settings ranging from the pedagogy of performance in business schools to struggling musicians coping with new performance metrics in online platforms In the performance society networks of observation in which all are performing and keeping score are entangled with a system of emotionally charged preoccupations with one's positioning within the rankings From the bedroom to the boardroom pharmaceutical companies and management consultants promise enhanced performance This assemblage of metrics networks and their attendant emotional pathologies is herein regarded as the performance complex      Mediating Migration Radha Sarma Hegde, 2016-02-04 Media practices and the everyday cultures of transnational migrants are deeply interconnected Mediating Migration narrates aspects of the migrant experience as shaped by the technologies of communication and the social political and cultural configurations of neoliberal globalization The book examines the mediated reinventions of transnational diasporic cultures the emergence of new publics and the manner in which nations and migrants connect By placing migration and media practices in the same frame the book offers a wide ranging discussion of the contested politics of mobility and transnational cultures of diasporic communities as they are imagined connected and reproduced by various groups individuals and institutions Drawing on current events activism cultural practices and crises concerning immigration this book is organized around themes legitimacy recognition publics domesticity authenticity that speak to the entangled interconnections between media and migration Mediating Migration will be of interest to students in media communication and cultural studies The book raises questions that cut across disciplines about cutting edge issues of our times migration mobility citizenship and mediated environments      Slow Journalism Megan Le Masurier, 2020-04-02 Slow Journalism has emerged in recent years to enact a critique of the limitations and dangers of the speed of much mainstream contemporary journalistic practice There have been types of journalism produced and consumed slowly for centuries of course What is new is the context of hyper acceleration and over production of journalism where quality has suffered ethics are compromised and user attention has eroded Many have been asking if there is another way to practice journalism The emergence of Slow Journalism suggests that there is Many international scholars and practitioners have been thinking critically about the problems wrought by speed and are utilising the concept of slow to describe a new way of thinking about and producing journalism This edited collection offers theoretical perspectives and case studies on the practice of slow journalism around the globe Slow Journalism is a new practice for new times This book was originally published as two special issues of Journalism Practice and Digital Journalism      Photography and Doubt Sabine T. Kriebel, Andrés Mario Zervigón, 2016-11-25 Recent decades have seen photography's privileged relationship to the real come under question Spurred by the postmodern critique of photography in the 1980s and the rise of digital technologies soon thereafter scholars have been asking who and what built this understanding of the medium in the first place Photography and Doubt reflects on this interest in photography's referential power by discussing it in rigorously historical terms How was the understanding of photographic realism cultivated in the first place What do cases of staged and manipulated photography reveal about that realism's hold on audiences across the medium's history Have doubts about photography's testimonial power stimulated as much knowledge as its realism Edited by Sabine T Kriebel and Andrés Mario Zervigón Photography and Doubt is the first multi authored collection specifically designed to explore these questions Its 13 original essays illustrated with 73 color images explore cases when the link between the photographic image and its referent was placed under stress and when photography was as attuned to its myth making capabilities as to its claims to authenticity

Photography and Doubt will serve as a valuable resource for students and scholars in art history visual and media studies philosophy and the history of science and technology

In/visible War Jon Simons, John Louis Lucaites, 2017-06-14 In Visible War addresses a paradox of twenty first century American warfare The contemporary visual American experience of war is ubiquitous and yet war is simultaneously invisible or absent we lack a lived sense that America is at war This paradox of in visibility concerns the gap between the experiences of war zones and the visual mediated experience of war in public popular culture which absents and renders invisible the former Large portions of the domestic public experience war only at a distance For these citizens war seems abstract or may even seem to have disappeared altogether due to a relative absence of visual images of casualties Perhaps even more significantly wars can be fought without sacrifice by the vast majority of Americans Yet the normalization of twenty first century war also renders it highly visible War is made visible through popular commercial mediated culture The spectacle of war occupies the contemporary public sphere in the forms of celebrations at athletic events and in films video games and other media coming together as MIME the Military Industrial Media Entertainment Network

Doris Lessing and the Forming of History Kevin Brazil, 2016-09-20 The death of Nobel Prize winning Doris Lessing sparked a range of commemorations that cemented her place as one of the major figures of twentieth and twenty first century world literature This volume views Lessing s writing as a whole and in retrospect focusing on her innovative attempts to rework literary form to engage with the challenges thrown up by the sweeping historical changes through which she lived The 12 original chapters provide new readings of Lessing s work via contexts ranging from post war youth politics and radical women s writing to European cinema analyse her experiments with genres from realism to autobiography and science fiction and draw on previously unstudied archive material The volume also explores how Lessing s writing can provide insight into some of the issues now shaping twenty first century scholarship including trauma ecocriticism the post human and world literature as they emerge as defining challenges to our own present moment in history

Boundaries and Motherhood Deepa Dandekar, The Sexual Violence and Impunity in South Asia research project coordinated by Zubaan and supported by the International Development Research Centre brings together for the first time in the South Asian region a vast body of research on this important and yet silenced subject Six country volumes one each on Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka and two on India as well as two standalone volumes comprising over 50 research papers and two book length studies detail the histories of sexual violence and look at the systemic institutional societal individual and community structures that work together to ensure that impunity for perpetrators is more or less inbuilt As many of the authors argue the very nature and conditions of sexual violence in the South Asian region lend themselves to a silencing process or at a minimum a reluctance to address it head on something that may at least partially explain why accountability for sexual violence remains such a distant horizon This volume focuses on Bangladesh a nation born in 1971 in a birth that was as marked by bloodshed as it was by sexual violence The history of widespread sexual violence and incidents of sexual slavery as well as the absence of accountability for the perpetrators is by now well known The essays here address the structural dynamics of impunity at the individual and societal levels looking not only at the conditions that go into its creation but also the elements that fuel it They ask what helps it to become so embedded and point to its human global and national costs Together they explore the ways in which the women's movement and feminist practice have worked to demand accountability and recognition for the victims and survivors of sexual violence challenging the impunities embedded in the patriarchal structures of Bangladeshi society In doing so they bear witness to the continuing efforts of women's groups in Bangladesh to give this crucial issue the attention that it deserves for without that justice for victims and survivors will remain elusive
