World History Chapter 1 notes:

Johann Gottfried Herder on World History: An Anthology Michael Palma, Johann Gottfried Herder, Hans Adler, Ernest A. Menze, 2015-06-01 Johann Gottfried Herder 1744 1803 was an influential German critic and philosopher whose ideas included cultural nationalism that every nation has its own personality and pattern of growth This anthology contains excerpts from Herder s writings on world history and related topics The Silk Road in World History Xinru Liu, 2010-07-09 The Silk Road was the contemporary name for a complex of ancient trade routes linking East Asia with Central Asia South Asia and the Mediterranean world This network of exchange emerged along the borders between agricultural China and the steppe nomads during the Han Dynasty 206BCE 220CE in consequence of the inter dependence and the conflicts of these two distinctive societies In their quest for horses fragrances spices gems glassware and other exotics from the lands to their west the Han Empire extended its dominion over the oases around the Takla Makan Desert and sent silk all the way to the Mediterranean either through the land routes leading to the caravan city of Palmyra in Syria desert or by way of northwest India the Arabian Sea and the Red Sea landing at Alexandria The Silk Road survived the turmoil of the demise of the Han and Roman Empires reached its golden age during the early middle age when the Byzantine Empire and the Tang Empire became centers of silk culture and established the models for high culture of the Eurasian world The coming of Islam extended silk culture to an even larger area and paved the way for an expanded market for textiles and other commodities By the 11th century however the Silk Road was in decline because of intense competition from the sea routes of the Indian Ocean Using supply and demand as the framework for analyzing the formation and development of the Silk Road the book examines the dynamics of the interactions of the nomadic pastoralists with sedentary agriculturalists and the spread of new ideas religions and values into the world of commerce thus illustrating the cultural forces underlying material transactions This effort at tracing the interconnections of the diverse participants in the transcontinental Silk Road exchange will demonstrate that the world had been linked through economic and ideological forces long before the modern era South Africa in World History Iris Berger, 2009-03-27 This volume begins in the early centuries of the Common Era with the various groups of people who had settled in southern Africa Stone Age foragers farmers with iron technology and pastoralists all interacted to create a complex society before Europeans arrived In the seventeenth century Dutch settlers developed a colonial society based on the menial labor of indigenous inhabitants of the Cape and slaves imported from the East Indies and other parts of Africa British conquest in the early nineteenth century brought an end to slavery as well as new forms of colonial domination tension between the British and the original Dutch settlers armed struggle between expanding European communities and Africans including the highly militarized Zulu kingdom and intensive missionary activity that transformed many African societies The discovery of diamonds and gold in the late nineteenth century brought industrialization based on migrant labor new clashes between British and Africaaners the final conquest of African societies and new European migrants During the twentieth century despite further economic development African communities were increasingly impoverished New forms of racial domination lead to the implementation of apartheid in 1948 and heightened political organizing among both African and Africaaner nationalists The intensification of resistance in the 1970s and 80s coupled with drastic changes in the international balance of power brought an end to the apartheid state in 1994 and an intensified struggle to overcome apartheid s economic and political legacy by building a new nonracial society The book emphasizes social and cultural history focusing on people s interactions and identities according to race class gender religion and ethnicity It also addresses changes in literature both oral and written music and the arts and draws on the extensive biographical and autobiographical literature to provide a personal focus for the discussion of major themes While this emphasis reflects dominant trends in historical scholarship for the past two decades it also includes recent material on environmental history and relationships between African Americans and South Africans Where relevant it highlights comparisons between South African and U S history

Ottoman Egypt and the Emergence of the Modern World Nelly Hanna, 2014-09-01 Aiming to place Egypt clearly in the context of some of the major worldwide transformations of the three centuries from 1500 to 1800 Nelly Hanna questions the mainstream view that has identified the main sources of modern world history as the Reformation the expansion of Europe into America and Asia the formation of trading companies and scientific discoveries Recent scholarship has challenged this approach on account of its Eurocentric bias on both the theoretical and empirical levels Studies on India and southeast Asia for example reject the models of these regions as places without history as stagnant and in decline and as awakening only with the emergence of colonialism when they became the recipients of European culture and technology So far Egypt and the rest of the Ottoman world have been left out of these approaches Nelly Hanna fills this gap by showing that there were worldwide trends that touched Egypt India southeast Asia and Europe In all these areas for example there were linguistic shifts that brought the written language closer to the spoken word She also demonstrates that technology and know how far from being centered only in Europe flowed in different directions in the eighteenth century French entrepreneurs were trying to imitate the techniques of bleaching and dyeing of cloth that they found in Egypt and other Ottoman localities Based on a series of lectures given at the Middle East Center at Harvard this groundbreaking book will be of interest to all those looking for a different perspective on the history of south north relations Iran in World History Richard C.
