Reality's Dark Light Maria K. Bachman, Don Richard Cox, 2003 In the midst of a Victorian culture ingrained with strict social etiquette and societal norms Wilkie Collins composed novels that contained asocial even anarchic impulses A contemporary of Dickens Collins creates a world more Kafkaesque than Dickensian a world populated by doppelgangers secret selves oddballs and grotesques The essays of Reality's Dark Light The Sensational Wilkie Collins purposefully work to expand Collins's legacy beyond The Woman in White and The Moonstone they move well past the simplistic view of Collins's works as sensation novels detective novels or even popular fiction all labels that carry with them pejorative connotations This collection represents the range of Collins's aesthetic project from various critical perspectives New methodological and theoretical approaches are applied both to his most popular and to his lesser known works giving the reader a broader picture of this multifaceted and undervalued writer The Editors Maria K Bachman in an assistant professor of English at Coastal Carolina University Her articles have appeared in Victorian Newsletter Literature and Psychology The Dickensian and Dickens Studies Annual Don Richard Cox is a professor of English and associate dean at the University of Tennessee His books include Sexuality and Victorian Literature Tennessee Arthur Conan Doyle and Charles Dickens's The Mystery of Edwin Drood An Annotated Bibliography He is the coeditor with Maria Bachman of an edition of Wilkie Collins's final novel Blind Love

The Flirt's Tragedy Richard A. Kaye, 2002-05-29 In the flirtation plots of novels by Jane Austen Charlotte Brontë and W M Thackeray heroines learn sociability through competition with naughty coquette doubles In the writing of George Eliot and Thomas Hardy flirting harbors potentially tragic consequences a perilous game then adapted by male flirts in the novels of Oscar Wilde and Henry James In revising Gustave Flaubert's Sentimental Education in The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton critiques the nineteenth century European novel as morbidly obsessed with deferred desires Finally in works by D H Lawrence and E M Forster flirtation comes to reshape the modernist representation of homoerotic relations In The Flirt's Tragedy Desire without End in Victorian and Edwardian Fiction Richard Kaye makes a case for flirtation as a unique neglected species of eros that finds its deepest most elaborately sustained fulfillment in the nineteenth century and early twentieth century novel The author examines flirtation in major British French and American texts to demonstrate how the changing aesthetic of such fiction fastened on flirtatious desire as a paramount subject for distinctly novelistic inquiry The novel he argues accentuated questions of ambiguity and ambivalence on which an erotics of deliberate imprecision thrived But the impact of flirtation was not only formal Kaye views coquetry as an arena of freedom built on a dialectic of simultaneous consent and refusal as well as an expression of managed desire a risky display of female power and a cagey avenue for the expression of dissident sexualities Through coquetry novelists offered their response to important scientific and social changes and to the rise of the metropolis as a realm of increasingly transient amorous relations Challenging current trends in gender post gender and queer theory criticism and considering texts as diverse as Darwin's The Descent of Man and Gilbert and Sullivan's The Mikado Kaye insists that critical appraisals of Victorian and Edwardian fiction must move beyond existing paradigms defining considerations of flirtation in the novel The Flirt's Tragedy offers a lively revisionary often startling assessment of nineteenth century fiction that will alter our understanding of the history of the novel The Ghost of One's Self Paul Meehan, 2017-09-19 For millennia people have held folk beliefs about the existence of the doppelgänger double walker in German a look alike second self that is often the antithesis of one's identity and is usually considered an omen of misfortune or death The theme of the double has inspired works by E T A Hoffmann Poe de Maupassant Dostoevsky and others and has been the basis for many classic mystery horror and science fiction movies This critical survey examines the double in more than 100 films by such acclaimed directors as Alfred Hitchcock Mario Bava Roger Corman David Cronenberg George Romero Fritz Lang James Cameron Robert Siodmak Don Siegel John Frankenheimer Terry Gilliam Brian De Palma and Roman Polanski Fake Kati Stevens, 2018-09-20 Object Lessons is a series of short beautifully designed books about the hidden lives of ordinary things The electric candle and faux fur coffee substitutes and meat analogues Obama impersonators prosthetics Imitation this false that Humans have been replacing and improving upon the real thing for millennia from wooden toes found on Egyptian mummies to the Luxor pyramid in Las Vegas So why do people have such disdain for so called fakes Kati Stevens's Fake discusses the strange history of imitations as well as our ever changing psychological and socioeconomic relationships with them After all fakes aren't going anywhere they seem to be going everywhere Object Lessons is published in partnership with an essay series in The Atlantic On Fashion Shari Benstock, Suzanne Ferriss, 1994 Barbie Magazine and the aesthetic commodification of girls' bodies I M O Sickey This year's girl a personal critical history of Twiggy L B DeLibero A woman's two bodies fashion magazines consumerism and feminism L W Rabine No bumps no excrescences Amelia Earhart's failed flight into fashion's K Jay Sonia Rykiel in translation H Cixous From Celebration S Rykiel Off the W rack fashion and pain in the work of Diane Arbus C Shloss An erotics of representation fashioning the icon with Man Ray M A Caws Seduction and elegance the new woman of fashion in silent cinema M Turim Madonna fashion and identity D Kellner Fragments of a fashionable discourse K Silverman Women recovering our clothes I M Young Fashion and the homospectatorial look D Fuss Terrorist chic style and domination in contemporary Ireland C Herr Paris or perish the plight of the latin american indian in a westernized world B Brodman Tribalism in effect A Ross The Spatial Dynamics of Juvenile Series Literature Michael G. Cornelius, 2020-11-11 Where we come from where we are where we have been and where we are going all have a huge impact on who we are Theories of space and place also hold that the converse is equally true that we have an impact on those spaces and places we inhabit or dwell within We make space our agencies our cultures our beliefs and values and understandings shape the macro and micro environments around us Just as much however those places we inhabit shape us causing us to adapt ourselves to them Children exist in spaces that are crafted for them by adults by parents by school administrators and teachers and as such their impact on space can be somewhat limited Space is made for them but certainly not to their own specifications or liking In children s literature spaces are often seen as noteworthy markers of a child s progression toward adulthood whether the space is Laura Ingalls little house or Harry Potter s Hogwarts For these characters movement through space is about growth and change about accepting the inevitability of growing up and the responsibility of the adulthood whether that be marriage and motherhood or vanquishing the most evil wizard of all time However what about juvenile series books whose central protagonists generally never grow or change The central character of these series usually a flat unchanging trope more than a fully realized fleshed out dynamic figure is a static creation Though characters like Nancy Drew and the Hardy Boys frequently move through different geographies they never change as characters In fact one could argue that the only dynamic that ever experiences any alteration in a series like Nancy Drew is setting Surely there is something significant about the relationship of series books to those spaces their protagonists inhabit This collection explores that relationship the dynamics between the controlled spaces of childhood and the variable spaces of juvenile series literature It shows that the unchanging series book characters demonstrate that their impact on space is far greater than its impact ever is on them reflecting an exercise in spatial authority that most children and even children s book heroes never quite experience
