Minimally Processed Foods Mohammed Wasim Siddiqui, Mohammad Shafiur Rahman, 2014-10-29 The safety and efficacy of minimal food processing depends on the use of novel preservation technologies This book first examines what is meant by minimally processed foods including fresh cut cooked chilled and part baked products Next explored are the technologies or methods to produce quality products in terms of safety and nutrition including edible coating natural preservatives i.e. antimicrobial, flavour enhancer, anti-browning, advanced packaging, active antimicrobial and modified or controlled atmosphere and selected non-thermal techniques: high pressure, pulsed electric field, ultrasound, light. Preservation of food is crucial to achieving a secure and safe global food supply with the desired sensory quality. In addition, the increasing consumer demand for safe, ready-to-serve, ready-to-eat and cook products with minimal chemical preservatives has raised expectations. However, foods deemed minimally processed, such as fresh-cut fruits and vegetables, cooked, chilled and half-baked foods, are delicate products that need special care in preparation, processing, storage and handling. As a result, new technologies to develop minimally processed foods have aggressively advanced. Minimally Processed Foods: Technologies for Safety, Quality and Convenience explores both the definition of minimally processed foods and the methods and technologies used to achieve the safety and nutritional value consumers demand. About the Editors: Mohammed Wasim Siddiqui, Bihar Agricultural University, Sabour, Bhagalpur, India; Mohammad Shafiur Rahman, Sultan Qaboos University, Al-Khod, Oman.

Brunei and the Future Transformation of Southeast Asia Gabriel Yit Vui Yong, A.K.M. Ahsan Ullah, 2025-08-13. This book adopts an interdisciplinary approach drawing on contributions from experts in various fields such as geography, environmental, and developmental studies to provide a comprehensive analysis of Brunei's role within Southeast Asia's future trajectory. Brunei has often been overlooked or given only cursory coverage in regional analyses, and so this book affords significant attention to the Bruneian perspective on regional development. By integrating Brunei's unique historical, geographical, and socio-economic context into the broader discussion, the book offers insights into how Brunei's aspirations and challenges contribute to shaping the region's future. By emphasizing local, regional transformation and resilience, the book provides practical insights into how Brunei and other Southeast Asian nations can navigate uncertainties, adapting to global challenges such as climate change, economic shifts, and geopolitical dynamics, and seize opportunities in the coming decades. It is relevant to social scientists across disciplines focused on Southeast Asia and in the Muslim world's role in development.
