Africans that may not be the same today as in the past For this reason this book takes the liberty to discuss present manifestations of a transformed past in the present Post Colonial Identities Chin Ce, Charles Smith, 2014-04-02 Post Colonial Identities revisits issues regarding the newer literature within the expansive African heritage of diverse regional and national groupings It is poised at substantiating the uniformity of Africa in terms of literary and cultural movements and lending some inter disciplinary insights on the whole body of literature through twentieth century history Out of Africa Pal Ahluwalia, 2010-04-05 In this book Ahluwalia makes a convincing and controversial case that post structuralism has colonial and postcolonial roots This wide ranging discussion ranging across authors as different as Foucault Derrida Fanon Althusser Cixous Bourdieu and Lyotard enables the reader to make connections that have remained unnoticed or been neglected It also brings back into view a history of struggles both political and theoretical that has shaped the landscape of critique in the social sciences and humanities Tradition, Culture and Development in Africa Ambe J Njoh, 2016-12-05 The fact that Africa continues to lag behind all regions of the world on every indicator of development is hardly contentious However there is fierce debate on why this should be the case despite national and international efforts to reverse this situation While this book does not attempt to answer this question per se it addresses a largely ignored but important issue which might provide some insights into the matter This issue is the link between culture tradition and socio economic development in Africa By weaving a common thread through these concepts this book breaks new ground in the discourse on development It highlights the differences between Euro centric culture which is rooted in capitalist ideology and Protestant ethic and traditional African culture where concepts such as capital accumulation entrepreneurial attitudes and material wealth are not of top priority In doing so it dispels popular myths stereotypes and distortions as well as discounting misleading accounts about major aspects of African culture and traditional practices Sub-Saharan African Immigrants' Stories of Resilience and Courage Mariam Konate, Fredah Mainah, 2022-12-06 The purpose of this book is to give a voice to nameless and countless stories that represent the personal lived experiences of sub Saharan African immigrants in the United States The authors believe that telling our own stories from our own perspectives is important and empowering because when others tell our stories there are omissions and misrepresentations and a lot of stereotyping The authors hope that the insights gained from the research in this book will be used by immigrant communities academic institutions and governmental agencies in advocating for immigration policies that positively impact the lived experiences of sub Saharan African immigrants and in planning support interventions Understanding Organization Through Culture and Structure Anne Maydan Nicotera, Marcia J. Clinkscles, Felicia R. Walker, 2003-05-14 Vol examines problems related to task relational orientations concerning organizational structure function within predominantly African American organizations For scholars students in org comm management org psych African studies Art and Political Thought in Bole Butake Emmanuel Ngwang, Kenneth Usongo, 2016-09-30 The book Art and Political Thought in Bole Butake through a pluralist critical approach interrogates Butake's major creative works Lake God and Palm Wine Will Flow. The Survivors, Shoes and Four Men in Arms, Dance of the Vampires and The Rape of Michelle mainly in terms of their political underpinnings and cultural signification. The intention is to place his drama within the socio-political matrix of Cameroon and demonstrate the topicality of the issues of governance, marginalization and corruption in Cameroon or Africa that Butake consistently foregrounds in his creative works. The study opens with an overview of the historical and social milieu that feeds Butake's imagination and the introduction is followed by an interview of the playwright in which he explains his mission as a writer. The next two chapters appraise the political symbolism of Butake's plays and chapter five undertakes a comparison of the colonial legacy and the culture of corruption in Butake's Lake God and The Rape of Michelle. Women in Butake's imaginative universe play a non-negligible role in change. They are portrayed as political and social activists in their challenge to autocratic rule. This is the leitmotif of chapter six which highlights the contribution of women towards political change in Cameroon. In chapters seven and eight the focus is on articulating the cultural signification of Butake's plays in terms of political change. Concomitantly these chapters also demonstrate Butake's seamless incorporation of elements of oral literature in his drama as he interpolates proverbs, divinations and other elements of orality in his work. Chapter nine of the book points out how Butake foregrounds the character traits of his protagonists against the backdrop of traditional Ngoni religion as well as Christianity. Thus the bigotry and belligerence of both the Fon and Father Leo in Lake God for example are projected through a supernatural frame. The conclusion appraises the contemporaneity of Butake's drama. His oeuvre continues to inspire so many people from disenfranchised groups that see in his drama a path to reclaiming liberties and to critics who are challenged to hone their literary tools in the endeavor to situate his works within the dynamics of politics and culture in Africa.
