Annotated Volume 4 Arno Clemens Gaebele, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1921 edition. Excerpt tells out all she is in His sight and loving estimation. He has called her from the lions den from the mountains of the leopards. Verse 8 she has passed through the fires of persecution and tribulation and now His heart expresses His delight in her. There are eight descriptions of her beauty. He tells her Behold thou art fair my love behold thou art fair. And after the description of the beauty He beholds in her whom He has brought out of the wilderness and out of the lions den. He says Thou art all fair my love and there is no spot in thee. He assures her of His delight in her. It is all His own workmanship she has not made herself fair without a spot. His grace and power have accomplished it for her. And what is true of the bride remnant of Israel is also true of the church. In Him we have our completeness and perfection. His own comeliness and glory is bestowed upon us. The happy day is coming for Him and for us when He will present the church to Himself a glorious church not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing but that it should be holy and without blemish. Eph v 27. In verses 12-15 we have a beautiful description of the garden the land of Israel in which His beloved is now planted once more. Here are found the precious fruits as well as the spikenard and all the trees of frankincense. There is the fountain the well of living waters this as well as the north wind and the south wind typifies the Holy Spirit. And she invites Him to come to His garden. Let my beloved come into His garden and eat its precious fruit. CHAPTER V The bridegroom answers the invitation extended to Him when the bride had said Let my Beloved come into His not her garden. He says I am come into my garden my sister.
