PROGRESSIVE SOCIALISM, FASCISM, AND COMMUNISM

Leftist: radical views; advocating overthrow of established orders of government, religion, and society in general

Bolsheviks: radical, extremist elements of Russian Social Democratic Party; Communists who overthrew the Czar in the Bolshevik Revolution of (1917-1920)

Central Powers: World War I military league; major powers were the German, Austro-Hungarian, and Ottoman (Turkish) Empire, plus the Kingdom of Bulgaria; the name "Central Powers" derives from their location in Central Europe

Society under Socialism is run by a State-sanctioned bureaucracy. Labor unions become government entities. Individual freedom and free enterprise are non-existent. All economic activity is tightly controlled by government.

The similarities in the two methods of governing are many. The differences are few and superficial. In Fascism, property is privately owned, but it is under the absolute control of the federal government that confiscates profits through high taxes. In Communism, there is no private ownership. In particular, the means of production and distribution are owned by the state, "in the name of the people." The Communist Manifesto defines clearly the objectives and strategy of progressive Marxists to destroy capitalism.

For centuries, the czars (hereditary rulers of Russia) held the Russian population in a reign of cruel tyranny with growing resentment and discontent. Finally, during World
