Smith, 2004 The American Historical

Association's Committee on Women Historians commissioned some of the pioneering figures in women's history to prepare essays in their respective areas of expertise. These volumes are the second and third in a series of three complete their collected efforts. The first volume of the series dealt with the broad themes necessary to understanding women's history around the world. As a counterpoint, volume 2 is concerned with issues that have shaped the history of women in particular places and during particular eras. It examines women in ancient civilizations including women in China, Japan, and Korea; women and gender in South and South East Asia; Medieval women; women and gender in Colonial Latin America; and the history of women in the US to 1865. Authors included are Sarah Hughes and Brady Hughes, Susan Mann, Barbara N. Ramusack, Judith M. Bennett, Ann Twinam, and Kathleen Brown. As with volume 2, volume 3 also discusses current trends in gender and women's history from a regional perspective. It includes essays on sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East, early and modern Europe, Russian and the Soviet Union, Latin America, and North America after 1865. Authors include Asuncion Lavrin, Ellen Dubois, and Judith P. Zinsler, writing with Bonnie S. Anderson. Incorporating essays from top scholars ranging over an abundance of regions, dates, and methodologies, the three volumes of Women's History in Global Perspective constitute an invaluable resource for anyone interested in a comprehensive overview on the latest in feminist scholarship. Bonnie G. Smith is the Board of Governors Professor of History and director of the Institute for Research on Women at Rutgers University. She is the author of Confessions of a Concierge, Madame Lucie's History of Twentieth Century France, and many other books.

Sex Work Politics Samantha Majic, 2014-01-15. In San Francisco, the St. James Infirmary (SJI) and the California Prostitutes Education Project (CAL PEP) provide free nonjudgmental medical care, counseling, and other health and social services by and for sex workers, a radical political commitment at odds with government policies that criminalize prostitution. To maintain and expand these much-needed services and to qualify for funding from state, federal, and local authorities, such organizations must comply with federal and state regulations for nonprofits. In Sex Work Politics, Samantha Majic investigates the way nonprofit organizations negotiate their governmental obligations while maintaining their commitment to outreach and advocacy for sex workers' rights, as well as broader sociopolitical change. Drawing on multimethod qualitative research, Majic outlines the strategies that CAL PEP and SJI employ to balance the conflicting demands of service and advocacy, which include treating sex work as labor with legitimate occupational health and safety concerns, empowering their clients with civic skills to advance their political commitments outside the nonprofit organization, and conducting and publishing research and analysis to inform the public and policymakers of their constituents' needs. Challenging the assumption that activists must sell out and abandon radical politics to manage formal organizations, Majic comes to the surprising conclusion that it is indeed possible to maintain effective advocacy and key social movement values, beliefs, and practices even while partnering with government agencies. Sex Work Politics significantly contributes to studies of transformational politics with its nuanced portrait of nonprofits as centers capable of sustaining political and social change.

The Rough Guide to Turkey ,2010 Contemporary Caribbean Cultures and Societies in a Global Context Franklin W. Knight,Teresita Martínez-Vergne,2006-05-18 The Caribbean ranks among the earliest and most completely globalized regions in the world From the first moment Europeans set foot on the islands to the present products people and ideas have made their way back and forth between the region and other parts of the globe with unequal but inexorable force An inventory of some of these unprecedented multidirectional exchanges this volume provides a measure of as well as a model for new scholarship on globalization in the region Ten essays by leading scholars in the field of Caribbean studies identify and illuminate important social and cultural aspects of the region as it seeks to maintain its own identity against the unrelenting pressures of globalization These essays examine cultural phenomena in their creolized forms from sports and religion to music and drink as well as the Caribbean manifestations of more universal trends from racial inequality and feminist activism to indebtedness and economic uncertainty Throughout the volume points to the contending forces of homogeneity and differentiation that define globalization and highlights the growing agency of the Caribbean peoples in the modern world Contributors Antonio Benitez Rojo 1931 2004 Alex Dupuy Wesleyan University Juan Flores City University of New York Graduate Center Jorge L Giovannetti University of Puerto Rico Aline Helg University of Geneva Franklin W Knight The Johns Hopkins University Anthony P Maingot Florida International University Teresita Martinez Vergne Macalester College Helen McBain Economic Commission for Latin America the Caribbean Trinidad Frances Negron Muntaner Columbia University Valentina Peguero University of Wisconsin Stevens Point Raquel Romberg Temple University 'My Name is Not Natasha' John Davies,2009 This book challenges every common presumption that exists about the trafficking of women for the sex trade It is a detailed account of an entire population of trafficked Albanian women whose varied experiences including selling sex on the streets of France clearly demonstrate how much the present discourse about trafficked women is misplaced and inadequate The heterogeneity of the women involved and their relationships with various men is clearly presented as is the way women actively created a panoptical surveillance of themselves as a means of self policing There is no artificial divide between women who were deceived and abused and those who choose sex work in fact the book clearly shows how peripheral involvement in sex work was to the real agenda of the women involved Most of the women described in this book were not making economic decisions to escape desperate poverty nor were they the uneducated nave entrapped into sexual slavery The women s success in transiting trafficking to achieve their own goals without the assistance of any outside agency is a testimony to their resilience and resolve

Feminism, Prostitution and the State Eilis Ward,Gillian Wylie,2017-02-17 This edited volume focuses on charting the rise of neo abolitionism and offering a critique of the idea its logics and consequences A model of state policy which aims to abolish prostitution through legislation Neo abolitionism criminalises the buyer of sex but not the seller It is currently law in Sweden and other Nordic states and dominates the framing of policy debates in many other Western liberal contexts Pressure for adoption of this policy has come from radical feminists who understand prostitution and sex trafficking as a form of violence against women This volume argues that this convergence between radical feminism and state s interests arises from the emergence of on the one hand governance feminism which seeks to have its ideals implemented through top down sovereigntist means and on the other hand state s interests in legitimising stricter border controls and law enforcement responses in relation to transnational organised criminality illegal migration and security Based around a series of country case studies each chapter will explore the politics surrounding the emergence of neo abolitionism and its trajectory through those polities whether the paradigm has been adopted rejected or is still under debate The volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of Social and Public Policy Gender and Women s Studies Politics and International Relations and Critical Legal Studies Criminology
