Jeffrey Hardwick,2015-08-18 The shopping mall is both the most visible and the most contentious symbol of American prosperity Despite their convenience malls are routinely criticized for representing much that is wrong in America sprawl conspicuous consumption the loss of regional character and the decline of Mom and Pop stores So ubiquitous are malls that most people would be surprised to learn that they are the brainchild of a single person architect Victor Gruen An immigrant from Austria who fled the Nazis in 1938 Gruen based his idea for the mall on an idealized America the dream of concentrated shops that would benefit the businessperson as well as the consumer and that would foster a sense of shared community Modernist Philip Johnson applauded Gruen for creating a true civic art and architecture that enriched Americans daily lives and for decades he received praise from luminaries such as Lewis Mumford Winthrop Rockefeller and Lady Bird Johnson Yet in the end Gruen returned to Europe thoroughly disillusioned with his American dream In Mall Maker the first biography of this visionary spirit M Jeffrey Hardwick relates Gruen s successes and failures his work at the 1939 World s Fair his makeover of New York s Fifth Avenue boutiques his rejected plans for reworking entire communities such as Fort Worth Texas and his crowning achievement the enclosed shopping mall Throughout Hardwick illuminates the dramatic shifts in American culture during the mid twentieth century notably the rise of suburbia and automobiles the death of downtown and the effect these changes had on American life Gruen championed the redesign of suburbs and cities through giant shopping malls earnestly believing that he was promoting an American ideal the ability to build a community Yet as malls began covering the landscape and downtowns became more depressed Gruen became painfully aware that his dream of overcoming social problems through architecture and commerce was slipping away By the tumultuous year of 1968 it had disappeared Victor Gruen made America depend upon its shopping malls While they did not provide an invigorated sense of community as he had hoped they are enduring monuments to the lure of consumer culture Quebec and the American Dream Robert

Chodos, Eric Hamovitch, 1991 Doing Text Pete Bennett, Julian McDougall, 2017-02-14 This collection reimagines the study of English and media in a way that decentralises the text e.g. romantic poetry or film noir or media formats/platforms e.g. broadcast media/new media. Instead, the authors work across boundaries in meaningful thematic contexts that reflect the ways in which people engage with reading/watching/making and listening in their textual lives. In so doing, this project recasts both subjects as combined in a more reflexive critical space for the study of our everyday social and cultural interactions. Across the chapters, the authors present applicable learning and teaching strategies that weave together art works, films, social practices, creativity, viral media, theater, TV, social media, videogames, and literature. The culmination of this range of strategies is a reclaimed blue skies approach to progressive textual education, free from constraining shackles of outdated ideas about textual categories and value that have hitherto alienated generations of students and both English and media from themselves.
