Sneider, 2011-02-08 Over the past fifteen years Northeast Asia has witnessed growing intraregional exchanges and interactions especially in the realms of culture and economy Still the region cannot escape from the burden of history This book examines the formation of historical memory in four Northeast Asian societies China Japan South Korea and Taiwan and the United States focusing on the period from the beginning of the Sino Japanese war in 1931 until the formal conclusion of the Pacific War with the San Francisco Peace Treaty of 1951 The contributors analyse the recent efforts of Korean Japanese and Chinese scholars to write a common history of Northeast Asia and question the underlying motivations for their efforts and subsequent achievements In doing so they contend that the greatest obstacle to reconciliation in Northeast Asia lies in the existence of divided and often conflicting historical memories The book argues that a more fruitful approach lies in understanding how historical memory has evolved in each country and been incorporated into respective master narratives Through uncovering the existence of different master narratives it is hoped citizens will develop a more self critical self reflective approach to their own history and that such an introspective effort has the potential to lay the foundation for greater self and mutual understanding and eventual historical reconciliation in the region This book will be essential reading for students and scholars of Asian history Asian education and international relations in East Asia Asian American Education Clara C. Park,Russell Endo,Stacey J. Lee,Xue Lan Rong,2007-07-01

Cents and Sustainability Cheryl Desha, Charlie Hargroves, Michael Harrison Smith, 2010-09-23 Cents and Sustainability is a clear sighted response to the 1987 call by Dr Gro Brundtland in Our Common Future to achieve a new era of economic growth that is forceful and at the same time socially and environmentally sustainable The Brundtland Report argued that not only was it achievable but that it was an urgent imperative in order to achieve a transition to sustainable development while significantly reducing poverty and driving clean and green investment With some still arguing for significantly slowing economic growth in order to reduce pressures on the environment this new book Cents and Sustainability shows that it is possible to reconcile the need for economic growth and environmental sustainability through a strategy to decouple economic growth from environmental pressures combined with a renewed commitment to achieve significant environmental restoration and poverty reduction Beginning with a brief overview of some of the most pressing environmental challenges of our time the book then explains decoupling theory overviews a number of factors that can undermine and even block efforts to decouple in both developed and developing countries and then discusses a number of key considerations to assist the development of national decoupling strategies The book then focuses on presenting evidence to support greater action not just on climate change but also on decoupling economic growth from the loss of biodiversity and the deterioration of natural systems freshwater extraction waste production and air pollution In the lead up to the 2012 United Nations Earth Summit and beyond Cents and Sustainability will be a crucial guide to inform and assist nations to develop strategies to significantly reduce environmental pressures strengthen their economy create jobs and reduce poverty I commend the team from The Natural Edge Project and their partners for undertaking to develop a
