The Atlantic World Routledge Worlds:

The Atlantic World D'Maris Coffman, William O'Reilly, Adrian Leonard, 2019-12-20 As the meeting point between Europe colonial America and Africa the history of the Atlantic world is a constantly shifting arena but one which has been a focus of huge and vibrant debate for many years In over thirty chapters all written by experts in the field The Atlantic World takes up these debates and gathers together key original scholarship to provide an authoritative survey of this increasingly popular area of world history The book takes a thematic approach to topics including exploration migration and cultural encounters In the first chapters scholars examine the interactions between groups which converged in the Atlantic world such as slaves European migrants and Native Americans The volume then considers questions such as finance money and commerce in the Atlantic world as well as warfare government and religion The collection closes with chapters examining how ideas circulated across and around the Atlantic and beyond It presents the Atlantic as a shared space in which commodities and ideas were exchanged and traded and examines the impact that these exchanges had on both people and places Including an introductory essay from the editors which defines the field and lavishly illustrated with paintings drawings and maps this accessible volume is invaluable reading for all students and scholars of this broad sweep of world history

Water Worlds: Human Geographies of the Ocean Dr Jon Anderson, Dr Kimberley Peters, 2014-02-28 Our world is a water world Seventy percent of our planet consists of ocean However geography has traditionally overlooked this vital component of the earth's composition The word geography directly translates as earth writing and in line with this definition the discipline has preoccupied itself with the study of terrestrial spaces of society and nature This book challenges human geography's preoccupation with the terrestrial investigating the terra incognita of the seas and oceans Linking to new theoretical debates shaping the geographic discipline such as affect assemblage emotion hybridity and the more than human this volume unlocks new knowledge concerning the human geographies of ocean space The book casts adrift stable bounded and fixed conceptions of space and advances geographical understanding based on the world as becoming changing mobile and processional This ontology supports the notion that the oceans are not simply fluid in a literal way but also in a conceptual sense suggesting that the seas have their own fluid natures their own capacities and agencies which are co-fabricated with social and cultural life This book features twelve chapters authored by key academics contributing to this growing field of research The book is divided into three sections including an Introduction by the editors and a foreword by Prof Philip E Steinberg the leading scholar in the field of maritime geographies The first section of the book considers the ways in which different watery spaces from the Atlantic Ocean to the Mediterranean Sea have been conceptualized theorized and known through metaphors voyages of discovery and scientific endeavour The second section examines how oceans are experienced through various activities including driving on water kayaking in water and diving under water The final section explores the relations between human life and the nature of the sea as a material mobile and more than human space examining the influences of the ocean on the migratory practices of fishermen in Senegal to the more than human geographies of the contemporary scallop industry the historical journeys of steam ship companies and the pirate radio enterprise Oceans are fundamental to the workings of the world as we know it Critical human activities take place at sea including trade tourism migration scientific exploration and resource exploitation The water world is therefore significantly entwined with our everyday lives This book offers a novel and important contribution to an ever emerging cross disciplinary subject matter

Europe and the British Geographical Imagination, 1760-1830 Paul Stock, 2019-10-03 Europe and the British Geographical Imagination 1760 1830 explores what literate British people understood by the word Europe in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Was Europe unified by shared religious heritage Where were the edges of Europe Was Europe primarily a commercial network or were there common political practices too Was Britain itself a European country While intellectual history is concerned predominantly with prominent thinkers Paul Stock traces the history of ideas in non elite contexts offering a detailed analysis of nearly 350 geographical reference works textbooks dictionaries and encyclopaedias which were widely read by literate Britons of all classes and can reveal the formative ideas about Europe circulating in Britain ideas about religion the natural environment race and other theories of human difference the state borders the identification of the centre and edges of Europe commerce and empire and ideas about the past progress and historical change By showing how these and other questions were discussed in eighteenth and nineteenth century British culture Europe and the British Geographical Imagination 1760 1830 provides a thorough and much needed historical analysis of Britain s enduringly complex intellectual relationship with Europe Global Handbook of Inequality Surinder S.

Jodhka, Boike Rehbein, 2024-11-19 This handbook provides the most up to date and comprehensive review of the literature on inequality It provides comprehensive overviews of the main theoretical traditions concepts dimensions methodologies and contemporary debates around inequality as well as outlines of the situation of inequality in the world regions Each entry covers the most relevant literature on the respective topic and gives an introduction to the key discussions This authoritative reference work includes contributions from established and upcoming scholars based all over the world and is truly global in perspective It serves as a first introduction to the study of a particular field or issue related to inequality The distinctive aspect of this handbook is its emphasis on the lived realities of inequality its relational and cultural aspects as well as the economic and quantitative aspects This is a must read reference volume for students researchers and professionals interested in this topic across the spectrum of the social sciences Protestant Empires Ulinka Rublack, 2020-09-10

Protestantism during the early modern period is still predominantly presented as a European story Advancing a novel framework to understand the nature and impact of the Protestant Reformations this volume brings together leading scholars to substantially integrate global Protestant experiences into accounts of the early modern world created by the Reformations to compare Protestant ideas and practices with other world religions to chart colonial politics and experiences and to ask how resulting ideas and identities were negotiated by Europeans at the time Through its wide geographical and chronological scope Protestant Empires advances a new approach to understanding the Protestant Reformations Showcasing selective model approaches on how to think anew and pointing the way towards a multi national and connected account of the Protestant Reformations this volume demonstrates how global interactions and their effect on Europe have played a crucial role in the history of the long Reformation in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries The African Diaspora Toyin Falola,2013 The African diaspora is arguably the most important event in modern African history From the fifteenth century to the present millions of Africans have been dispersed many of them forcibly others driven by economic need or political persecution to other continents creating large communities with African origins living outside their native lands The majority of these communities are in North America This historic displacement has meant that Africans are irrevocably connected to economic and political developments in the West and globally Among the known legacies of the diaspora are slavery colonialism racism poverty and underdevelopment yet the ways in which these same factors worked to spur the scattering of Africans are not fully understood by those who were part of this migration or by scholars historians and policymakers In this definitive study of the diaspora in North America Toyin Falola offers a causal history of the western dispersion of Africans and its effects on the modern world Reengaging old and familiar debates and framing new ones that enrich the discourse surrounding Africa Falola isolates the thread running nearly six centuries that connects the history of slavery the transatlantic slave trade and current migrations A boon to scholars and policymakers and accessible to the general reader the book explores diverse narratives of migration and shows that the cultures that migrated from Africa to the Americas have the capacity to unite and create a new pan Africanist movement within the globalized world Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin He is the 2011 recipient of the Distinguished Africanist Award from the African Studies Association and serves as the vice president of the International Scientific Committee of the UNESCO Slave Route Project His previous books published by the University of Rochester Press include The Power of African Cultures and Nationalism and African Intellectuals Johann Reinhold Forster and the Making of Natural History on Cook's Second Voyage, 1772-1775 Anne Mariss,2019-09-09 James Cook s voyages of exploration are a turning point not only in the history of the British Empire but also in the history of science and exploration of the Pacific The last decades have seen a wide ranging scholarly interest in Cook s voyages focusing on their impact on European and Polynesian societies their scientific results and their protagonists such as Cook himself or the nobleman Joseph Banks who took part in Cook s first voyage of exploration This book examines the hitherto underestimated role of the German scholar Johann Reinhold Forster who together with his son Georg Forster accompanied Cook on his second voyage of exploration 1772 1775 as a principal naturalist For a long time the German traveler has remained a rather shadowy figure of Cook s voyages of exploration and has only attracted scholarly attention occasionally Focusing on the making of knowledge onboard the ship and the islands where it made landfall the study provides a historical reappraisal of Forster s scientific performance as a leading naturalist of his time By examining Forster s Resolution Journal Anne Mariss takes a microhistorical approach toward the making of natural history knowledge during the expedition to the Pacific Mariss unveils the difficulties the traveling naturalists encountered while collecting describing classifying and painting the natural world Her study brings to light the contribution of the various actors who were involved in this undertaking such as the scientific assistants sailors officers and the local actors of the Pacific world

Women and the Reformations Merry E

Wiesner-Hanks, 2024-10-29 A compelling authoritative history of how women shaped the Reformations and transformed religious life across the globe The Reformations both Protestant and Catholic have long been told as stories of men But women were central to the transformations that took place in Europe and beyond What was life like for them in this turbulent period How did their actions and ideas shape Christianity and influence societies around the world In this rich and definitive study renowned scholar Merry Wiesner Hanks explores the history of women and the Reformations in full for the first time Wiesner Hanks travels the globe examining well known figures like Teresa of Avila Elizabeth I and Anne Hutchinson as well as women whose stories are only now emerging Along the way we meet converts in Japan Spanish nuns in the Philippines and saints in Ethiopia and America Wiesner Hanks explores women's experiences as monarchs mothers migrants martyrs mystics and missionaries revealing that the story of the Reformations is no longer simply European and that women played a vital role

Turns of Event Hester Blum, 2016-04 American literary studies has undergone a series of field redefinitions that have been described as turns whether transnational aesthetic or affective Turns of Event Nineteenth Century American Literary Studies in Motion argues that the propensity of the field to reinvent itself without dissolution is one of its greatest strengths

Jewish Experiences across the Americas Katalin Franciska Rac, Lenny A. Ureña Valerio, 2023-08-01 This volume explores the local specificities and global forces that shaped Jewish experiences in the Americas across five centuries illuminating the culturally religiously and politically diverse lives of Jewish minorities in the Western Hemisphere

The Unnatural Trade Brycchan Carey, 2024-08-27 A look at the origins of British abolitionism as a problem of eighteenth century science as well as one of economics and humanitarian sensibilities How did late eighteenth century British abolitionists come to view the slave trade and British colonial slavery as unnatural a dread perversion of nature Focusing on slavery in the Americas and the Caribbean in particular alongside travelers accounts of West Africa Brycchan Carey shows that before the mid eighteenth century natural histories were a primary source of information about slavery for British and colonial readers These natural histories were often ambivalent toward slavery but they increasingly adopted a proslavery stance to accommodate the needs of planters by representing slavery as a natural phenomenon From the mid eighteenth century abolitionists adapted the natural history form to their own writings and many naturalists became associated with the antislavery movement Carey draws on descriptions of slavery and the slave trade created by naturalists and other travelers with an interest in natural history including Richard Ligon Hans Sloane Griffith Hughes Samuel Martin and James Grainger These environmental writings were used by abolitionists such as Anthony Benezet James Ramsay Thomas Clarkson and Olaudah Equiano to build a compelling case that slavery was unnatural a case that was popularized by abolitionist poets such as Thomas Day Edward Rushton Hannah More and William Cowper

Slaves and Religions in Graeco-Roman Antiquity and Modern Brazil Dick Geary, Stephen Hodgkinson, 2012-03-15 Slaves have never been mere passive victims of slavery

Typically they have responded with ingenuity to their violent separation from their native societies using a variety of strategies to create new social networks and cultures Religion has been a major arena for such slave cultural strategies Through participation in religious and ritual activities slaves have generated important elements of identity shared humanity and even resistance within their lives This volume presents papers from a conference of the University of Nottingham s Institute for the Study of Slavery the only UK centre studying its history from antiquity to the present It breaks new ground by juxtaposing slave strategies within the diverse religious cultures of Graeco Roman antiquity and modern Brazil After a wide ranging historiographical survey eleven experts examine how in both societies slave religious activities involved both constraints and opportunities shedding particular new light on the neglected religious strategies of Graeco Roman slaves

Maroons and the Marooned Richard Bodek, Joseph Kelly, 2020-04-20 Contributions by Richard Bodek Claire P Curtis Joseph Kelly Simon Lewis Steve Mentz J Brent Morris Peter Sands Edward Shore and James O Neil Spady Commonly the word maroon refers to someone cast away on an island One becomes marooned usually through a storm at sea or by a captain as a method of punishment But the term originally denoted escaped slaves Though being marooned came to be associated mostly with white European castaways the etymology invites comparison between true maroons escaped slaves establishing new lives in the wilderness and people who were marooned through maritime disaster This volume brings together literary scholars with historians encompassing both literal maroons such as in Brazil and South Carolina as well as metaphoric scenarios in time travel novels and postapocalyptic narratives Included are examples from The Tempest Margaret Atwood s MaddAddam trilogy A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur s Court and Octavia Butler s Kindred Both runaways and castaways formed new societies in the wilderness But true maroons escaped slaves were not cast away they chose to fly towards the uncertainties of the wild in pursuit of freedom In effect this volume gives these maroons proper credit at the very heart of American history
