books that address the role of religion in American fiction let alone ethnic American fiction None do so in so profoundly revisionary a way as this Joseph T Skerrett Jr University of Massachusetts Amherst In Recalling Religions Peter Kerry Powers demonstrates the pervasive influence of religion in the literature produced by ethnic women writers in late twentieth century America Through close readings of works by Alice Walker Maxine Hong Kingston Leslie Marmon Silko and Cynthia Ozick the author shows how particular religious traditions have served as a resource for ethnic women enabling them to sustain their communities in the face of oppression Powers s analysis serves as an important corrective to earlier investigations of literature and religion Too often he argues such studies have functioned with an abstract or individualistic notion of religion thus downplaying the significance of ethnic traditions and practices Other studies have emphasized the religious traditions of discrete groups but have failed to see the points of contact and common purpose between different ethnic experiences By examining writers with disparate religious heritages Powers introduces important new insights He finds that even as traditions and cultural memories have nurtured ethnic wormen writers their works have frequently rewritten or recreated such traditions for the present day seeking for instance to overcome or transcend the sexism that may have characterized earlier periods In its explorations of Walker Kingston Silko and Ozick Recalling Religions identifies broader trends that further our understanding of both American literatureand religious culture The Author Peter Kerry Powers is associate professor of English at Messiah College in Grantham Pennsylvania His articles and reviews have appeared in South Atlantic Review African American Review American Literature MELUS and other publications Literary Gazette and Journal of Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, &c ,1836 American Hereford Journal, 1940 Demonic Grounds Katherine McKittrick, In a long overdue contribution to geography and social theory Katherine McKittrick offers a new and powerful interpretation of black women s geographic thought In Canada the Caribbean and the United States black women inhabit diasporic locations marked by the legacy of violence and slavery Analyzing diverse literatures and material geographies McKittrick reveals how human geographies are a result of racialized connections and how spaces that are fraught with limitation are underacknowledged but meaningful sites of political opposition Demonic Grounds moves between past and present archives and fiction theory and everyday to focus on places negotiated by black women during and after the transatlantic slave trade Specifically the author addresses the geographic implications of slave auction blocks Harriet Jacobs s attic black Canada and New France as well as the conceptual spaces of feminism and Sylvia Wynter's philosophies Central to McKittrick's argument are the ways in which black women are not passive recipients of their surroundings and how a sense of place relates to the struggle against domination Ultimately McKittrick argues these complex black geographies are alterable and may provide the opportunity for social and cultural change Katherine McKittrick is assistant professor of women's studies at Queen's University Women and Violence Kathleen Nadeau, Sangita Rayamajhi, 2019-11-08 This important and timely reference work examines violence against women and gender based discrimination around the world providing a global perspective on why this kind of oppression is still occurring in the 21st century Within the past decade the attention that has been paid to violence against women by international government organizations such as the United Nations and World Health Organization has grown Yet silences around the violent treatment of women remains across the world particularly in those countries where women s rights are not protected and statistics are not available Women and Violence encompasses a global perspective of the history causes and complex underpinnings of gender and violence from a multidimensional and cross disciplinary perspective Chapters focus on a specific world region including North America Latin America and the Caribbean Europe North Africa and the Middle East Sub Saharan Africa Central and East Asia South and Southeast Asia and Oceania Each chapter begins with a general discussion on its world region then focuses on particular forms of violence against women in the more specific contexts of particular countries and in relation to the wider region Readers will be able to make cross cultural comparisons learning how to view gender based violence and women s advocacy against discrimination that is occurring around the world Critically Capitalist Bohyeong Kim, 2025-01-15 Critically Capitalist presents an ethnography of South Korea's asset seekers including amateur stock investors real estate enthusiasts and money coaches to demonstrate how financialized asset capitalism is sustained As they hunt for profit margins rent and dividends they simultaneously critique capitalism and posit their pursuit of assets as a form of resistance Bohyeong Kim theorizes this new spirit of capitalism in South Korea as critical capitalism arguing that it reflects the popular discontent with both national development and financial neoliberalism As a paradoxical critique and legitimation Bohyeong Kim argues that critical capitalism valorizes the capitalist economy not through a triumphant narrative but by highlighting the emotional wounds destroyed communities and oppressive tactics of modern capitalism Drawing on multi-sited ethnography and in depth interviews with a broad community of aspiring millionaires Critically Capitalist illuminates how contemporary capitalism thrives by channeling discontent into financial and real estate markets which in turn has cemented critical capitalism as the cultural and affective backbone of South Korea s economy Women and Literary Celebrity in the Nineteenth Century Brenda R. magnitude of those claims thus serving as a touchstone for later representations of women's literary genius and celebrity Fanny Fern for example adapts Gaskell s maneuvers on behalf of Charlotte Bront to portray the weak woman s body becoming strong as it is made visible through and celebrated within the literary marketplace Throughout her study Weber analyzes the complex codes connected to transatlantic formations of gender sex the body and literary celebrity as women authors proactively resisted an intense backlash against their own success Whatever It Takes Luna Blue, Amber a young barista wants nothing more in life than to open her own coffee shop The only problem is that it takes a lot of money money she doesn't have Worse she s in the midst of a sexual drought and the only man expressing any interest in her is Jamie her boss a man she absolutely despises And a man who has money the kind that will allow her to pursue her dream The only catch she has to sleep with him How much will she give to bring her dream to life And when love is in the air and her heart leads her elsewhere how hard will it be to break free of the man who buys her soul Whatever It Takes is a 22 000 word novella and was originally published as part of the Hot Roast Romance And Coffee Confessions anthology Gemma Stone, Attractive coffee shop manager Catherine Cox has been challenged to double the sales at her London based shop The Coffee Station If the business is going to survive it needs to start making more money The solution she knows is to somehow make The Coffee Station stand out against the big chain competitors Little does she know her staff have been discussion strategy for a long time and the answer doesn t just lie with steamy espressos Can this serious businesswoman put aside her assumptions about the market and embrace a darker side to her caf s hot roast What will it take to please staff and customers and the demands of a silent partner who has more than coffee on his mind Sexpresso is a 18 000 word novella and was originally published as part of the Hot Roast Romance And Coffee Confessions anthology The American Bookseller ,1887
