The Age Of Innocence:

The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 1996-03-01 Edith Wharton's acclaimed novel of love, duty, and half-known truths in Gilded Age New York society with a foreword by bestselling author Elif Batuman. Dutiful Newland Archer, an eligible young man from New York high society, is about to announce his engagement to May Welland, a suitable match from a good family, when May's cousin, the beautiful and exotic Countess Ellen Olenska, is introduced into their circle. The Countess brings with her an aura of European sophistication and a hint of perceived scandal, having left her husband and claimed her independence. Her worldliness, disregard for society's rules, and air of unapproachability attract the sensitive Newland despite his enthusiasm about a marriage to May and the societal advantages it would bring. Almost against their will, Newland and Ellen develop a passionate bond, and a classic love triangle takes shape as the three young people find themselves drawn into a poignant and bitter conflict between love and duty. Written in 1920, Edith Wharton's Pulitzer Prize-winning novel about a time and place long gone by, 1870s New York City beautifully captures the complexities of passion, independence, and fulfillment, and how painfully hard it can be for individuals to truly see one another and their place in the world. For more than seventy years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. With more than 1,700 titles, Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines. Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors, as well as up-to-date translations by award-winning translators.

The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 1920 The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 2006-02-09 Edith Wharton's most famous novel, written immediately after the end of the First World War, is a brilliantly realized anatomy of New York society in the 1870s. The charming Newland Archer is content to live within its constraints until he meets Ellen Olenska, whose arrival threatens his impending marriage as well as his comfortable future. They lived in a kind of hieroglyphic world where the real thing was never said or done or even thought but only represented by a set of arbitrary signs. Edith Wharton's most famous novel, written immediately after the end of the First World War, is a brilliantly realized anatomy of New York society in the 1870s, the world in which she grew up and from which she spent her life escaping. Newland Archer, Wharton's protagonist, charming, tactful, enlightened, is a thorough product of this society; he accepts its standards and abides by its rules but he also recognizes its limitations. His engagement to the impeccable May Welland assures him of a safe and conventional future until the arrival of May's cousin, Ellen Olenska, puts all his plans in jeopardy. Independent, free-thinking, scandalously separated from her husband, Ellen forces Archer to question the values and assumptions of his narrow world. As their love for each other grows, Archer has to decide where his ultimate loyalty lies.

The Age of Innocence Edith Wharton, 2014-02-08 The Age of Innocence centers on an upper-class couple's impending marriage and the introduction of a woman plagued by scandal whose presence threatens their happiness. Though the novel questions the assumptions and morals of 1870s New York society it never devolves into an outright condemnation of the institution In fact Wharton considered this novel an apology for her earlier novel The House of Mirth which was more brutal and critical Not to be overlooked is Wharton's attention to detail regarding the charms and customs of the upper caste The novel is lauded for its accurate portrayal of how the 19th century East Coast American upper class lived and this combined with the social tragedy earned Wharton a Pulitzer Prize the first Pulitzer awarded to a woman Edith Wharton was 58 years old at publication she had lived in that world and had seen it change dramatically by the end of World War I The title is an ironic comment on the polished outward manners of New York society when compared to its inward machinations It is believed to have been drawn from the popular 1785 painting A Little Girl by Sir Joshua Reynolds that later became known as The Age of Innocence and which was widely reproduced as the commercial face of childhood in the later half of the eighteenth century

Ellen Olenska May's exotic and beautiful 30 year old cousin Ellen has returned to New York from Europe after scandalously separating herself per rumor from a bad marriage to a Polish count. At first Ellen's arrival and its potential taint on the reputation of his bride to be's family disturb Newland but he becomes intrigued by the worldly Ellen who flouts New York society's fastidious rules. As Newland's admiration for the countess grows so does his doubt about marrying May a perfect product of Old New York society his match with May no longer seems the ideal fate he had imagined. Ellen's decision to divorce Count Olenski causes a social crisis for the other members of her family who are terrified of scandal and disgrace. Living apart can be tolerated but divorce is unacceptable. To save the Welland family's reputation a law partner of Newland asks him to dissuade Countess Olenska from divorcing the count. He succeeds but in the process comes to care for her. Afraid of falling in love with Ellen Newland begs May to accelerate their wedding date but she refuses. Newland tells Ellen he loves her. Ellen corresponds but is horrified that their love will aggrieve May. She agrees to remain in America separated but still married to Count Olenski only if they do not sexually consummate their love. Newland receives May's telegram agreeing to wed sooner. Newland and May marry. He tries unsuccessfully to forget Ellen. His society marriage is loveless and the social life he once found absorbing has become empty and joyless. Though Ellen lives in Washington and has remained distant he is unable to cease loving her. Their paths cross while he and May are in Newport Rhode Island. Newland discovers that Count Olenski wishes Ellen to return to him but she has refused although her family wants her to reconcile with her husband and return to Europe. Frustrated by her independence the family has cut off her money as the count had already done.

Edith Wharton born Edith Newbold Jones January 24 1862 August 11 1937 was a Pulitzer Prize winning American novelist short story writer and designer. She was nominated for the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1927 1928 and 1930.
