The Asian Imperative:

Transforming South Asia: Imperatives for Action Ambassador Rajiv Bhatia, Mr Swaran Singh, Ms Reena Marwah, 2013-11-15 Right from the Himalayan hermit kingdoms of Nepal and Bhutan to the island and archipelago countries of Sri Lanka and the Maldives the sheer variety of South Asia not only in geographic terms but also in terms of culture language and tradition is unparalleled A wide array of religious beliefs existing in the region alongside distinctive mind sets tend to differentiate the countries that make up South Asia The divisions however of the region among countries are not the same as the divisions among cultures religions This book titled Transforming South Asia Imperatives for Action is the outcome of serious deliberations among well known scholars diplomats and policymakers at the Third Conference of the Asian Relations Conference Series organized by Indian Council of World Affairs in collaboration with Association of Asia Scholars in March 2012 Papers presented in the conference were thoroughly revised before publication and editors acknowledge with gratitude these insightful contributions Most contributors to this volume believe in the pertinence of regional integration amongst various South Asian nations Specifically the volume sheds considerable light on the issue of regionalization and co operation as tools to achieve the much longed for transformation in South Asia Experts do not shy away from examining issues of conflict and how border disputes have often marred the positive spirit of regionalization as also other mechanisms of SAARC in its day to day functioning Therefore an effort to present the complex reality objectively is visible Contributors also underscore India s role in regionalization of South Asia as being far more pragmatic since it has strengthened local synergies especially at the level of their civil societies The Political and Moral Imperatives of the Bandung Conference of 1955 Kweku Ampiah, 2007-08-30 Now fifty years on with significantly more primary references available Kweku Ampiah s study provides a much needed in depth re evaluation of the conference as a whole focusing in particular on the external influences and preoccupations impacting on the participants seen through three case studies involving the US UK and Japan The Imperatives of Urban and Regional Planning Anis Ur Rahmaan, 2011 This book is comprised of articles and papers that have come about after years of academic and applied research endeavors of the practitioners and academicians in the field of urban and regional development planning Most of these articles have already been presented and deliberated in national and international conferences held in different parts of the world namely Indianapolis Newcastle upon Tyne Rome Istanbul Cairo Alexandria Vienna Stockholm Jeddah Riyadh Jubail Islamabad Penang and Bandung The concepts and case studies described in this book bring home the fact that the world is undergoing a gyrational transition Not only are developed and developing countries getting influenced by each other and transforming due to a process of circular causation but each of the two sets of countries are also undergoing a simultaneous internal transformation due to the differential infusion of technology and indigenous entrepreneurship As a consequence highly diversified urban systems are getting integrated interactively leading to the formation of a global village and achievement of a unity in diversity Writing the Ghetto Yoonmee Chang,2010 In the United States perhaps no minority group is considered as successful as the Asian American community which is often described as residing in positive sounding ethnic enclaves rather than in ghettos In this volume Yoonmee Chang exposes the unspoken class inequalities faced by Asian Americans while insightfully analyzing the effect such nations have had on their literary voices The Arms Race in Asia Andrew T.H. Tan,2013-12-13 This book is the first systematic examination of the emerging arms race in Asia The global trade in arms is to a large degree underpinned by the strong demand for arms in Asia and the Middle East the two largest arms export markets in the world Of these two regions Asia has become particularly significant led by the emergence of China and India as major powers It is therefore not surprising that the rapid military modernisation in Asia accompanied by significant increases in the size and sophistication of armed forces has generated attention as to its trends key characteristics causes and implications This phenomenon which has become evident since the end of the Cold War has also been widely described as an Asian arms race This book evaluates the key conceptual ideas which can shed light on this phenomenon as well as examining the complex mix of internal external and technological factors that have led to its emergence The volume explores the way in which the arms race is leading ultimately to three distinctive blocs in the emerging geostrategic landscape a loose bloc of US allies in the region a counter bloc of potential US adversaries and a neutral bloc of states with industrial age armed forces whose allegiances will vary according to circumstances and geostrategic developments The Arms Race in Asia concludes that if the emerging arms race is left unchecked it is likely that Asia will increasingly become a region of instability marked by conflicts and interstate wars The book will be of great interest to students of Asian politics strategic studies defence studies security studies and IR in general Asia-Pacific Economic and Security Co-operation C. Dent,2003-10-24 This collection examines new developments in economic and security co operation in the Asia Pacific in relation to two recent shock events that have significantly impacted upon the region these being the 1997 98 East Asian financial crisis and the September 11 attacks on the United States These are examined through three prime dimensions of analysis namely the tension between the post shock forces of imperative co operation and the counter forces of Asia Pacific complex diversity the growing conflation between economic and security issues or the economics security nexus in Asia Pacific international relations the relationship between the Asia Pacific s new economic and security bilateralism and regional level forms of co operation integration and governance Elements of Chinese Grammar Joshua Marshman,1814 World War II Spencer C. Tucker,Priscilla Roberts,2005-02-23 Designed with the more visual needs of today s student in mind this landmark encyclopedia covers the entire scope of the Second World War from its earliest roots to its continuing impact on global politics and human society Over 1 000 illustrations maps and primary source materials enhance the text and make history come alive for students and faculty alike ABC CLIO s World War II A Student Encyclopedia captures the monumental sweep of the Big One with accessible scholarship a student friendly image rich design and a variety of tools specifically crafted for the novice researcher For teachers and curriculum specialists it is a thoroughly contemporary and authoritative work with everything they need to enrich their syllabi and meet state and national standards Ranging from the conflict s historic origins to VJ Day and beyond it brings all aspects of the war vividly to life its origins in the rubble of World War I its inevitable outbreak its succession of tumultuous battles and unforgettable personalities Students will understand what the war meant to the leaders the soldiers and everyday families on home fronts around the world Featured essays look at Pearl Harbor the Holocaust the atomic bomb and other crucial events as well as fascinating topics such as signals intelligence and the role of women in war A separate primary source volume provides essential source material for homework test preparation or special projects With a wealth of new information and new ideas about the war s causes course and consequences World War II will be the first place students turn for the who what when where and more importantly the why behind this historic conflict

Biotic Diversity and Germplasm Preservation, Global Imperatives Lloyd Knutson, Allan K. Stoner, 1989-11-30 Topics for the Beltsville Symposia are selected to highlight specific areas of research and science policy that are of concern to scientists in the Beltsville Area as well as to the general scientific community Each symposium in the series is structured to provide a realistic appraisal of current findings research progress and relevant policy issues within the constraints established by the organizing committee Thus the presentations and discussions that have marked these symposia have had a strong appeal to the broad community of scientists Knowledge of the diversity of living organisms is still quite limited Since the time of Linnaeus about 1 7 million species have been described The actual number has been estimated between 5 50 million Many species land races and strains are vanishing Clearly the world's scientific institutions are inadequately equipped to attain sufficient knowledge of a significant fraction of the diverse living forms. Also efforts in the collection and preservation of germplasm of plants and animals urgently need to be strengthened. These matters are critically important to future generations. This symposium addresses vital concerns of biotic diversity and germplasm preservation from diverse perspectives. Many of the parts provide concrete recommendations for action and they call attention to areas of research that must be pursued with intensity.

Energy Economy In China: Policy Imperatives, Market Dynamics, And Regional Developments Kang Wu, 2012-09-21 The key subjects of the book are policy imperatives, market dynamics and regional developments concerning oil and gas as well as energy as a whole in China. In addition to national policies and issues, the objective of this book is to study China's regional oil and gas demand, supply and trade, energy balances and economic development with projections up till 2030. Particular emphasis will be given to challenges facing the Chinese government in ensuring future oil supplies, pipeline and liquefied natural gas (LNG) imports, energy security, downstream oil refining sector developments, the use of natural gas for power generation and oil and gas related environmental issues. The impact of China's oil and gas sector developments, market dynamics, rising imports and overseas investment on the Asia Pacific region and the world at large are examined. Energy Economy in China also reviews current and future oil refining projects, gas pipelines, LNG import terminals and emerging new markets in China over the next fifteen years.
