Committee on Public Works, 1969 Test of Faith, Leader's Guide Ruth Bancewicz, 2010-09 Test of FAITH is an innovative new resource designed for use by small groups wishing to explore big issues raised by science for both faith and ethics It introduces a wide range of hot topics including Are science and Christianity in conflict Has the Big Bang pushed God out of the universe What does creation mean Is evolution compatible with religious faith Is cloning ethical Are humans no more than biological machines Test of FAITH is designed to enable non specialists to join the discussion It allows small groups to unpack these issues and discuss them at a level and pace that suits the group It is flexible so that users can choose the topics that they want to cover and encourages open discussion of a range of views This Leader's Guide accompanies the Test of FAITH DVD and provides all the content of the Study Guide plus suggested responses to questions critical background information and opportunities for taking these issues further Samples and DVD trailer at www.testofaith.com

Railway Review, 1917 The Men and Women We Want Jeanne D. Petit, 2010 Should immigrants have to pass a literacy test in order to enter the United States Progressive Era Americans debated this question for more than twenty years and by the time the literacy test became law in 1917 the debate had transformed the way Americans understood immigration and created the logic that shaped immigration restriction policies throughout the twentieth century Jeanne Petit argues that the literacy test debate was about much more than reading ability or the virtues of education It also tapped into broader concerns about the relationship between gender sexuality race and American national identity The congressmen reformers journalists and pundits who supported the literacy test hoped to stem the tide of southern and eastern European immigration To make their case these restrictionists portrayed illiterate immigrant men as dissipated dependent paupers immigrant women as brood mares who bore too many children and both as a eugenic threat to the nation's racial stock Opponents of the literacy test argued that the new immigrants were muscular virile workers and nurturing virtuous mothers who would strengthen the race and nation Moreover the debaters did not simply battle about what social reformer Grace Abbott called the sort of men and women we want They also defined as normative the men and women they were unquestionably white unquestionably American and unquestionably fit to shape the nation's future Jeanne D Petit is Associate Professor of History at Hope College Railway and Engineering Review, 1917 Beyond the Fire Dewayne A Jackson, 2017-07-28 Destry Cotton was not from Amity nor did she care about its rich and colorful past However this Christmas her husband insisted they travel to his home where Destry met her in laws for the first time Trapped with the Cottons by a terrible blizzard Destry not only began to learn about Amity but Bill Cotton spoke of his own struggle with life and the impact doubt and fear had taken on his family his friends and his nation As Bill told of Gods supernatural intervention Destry began to wonder if the God she professed to believe would actually interact with humans Was it even possible Pull up a chair join Destry and witness how God intervened to rescue a nation and help his people learn to live Beyond the Fire Beyond 1995 R.E. Pendley,J.F. Pilat,2012-12-06 There is almost universal support for the view that the world would be an even more dangerous place if there were to be more nuclear weapon states There would be more fingers on more triggers and probably a greater risk that a trigger might be pulled with incalculable consequences It is easy to see therefore that there is a collective interest in avoiding the spread of nuclear weapons to further countries Nations do not however normally undertake or refrain from actions because of such a collective interest they do so because of their individual interests This is especially true in the field of national security A nation perceiving that it has a real interest in developing nuclear weapons is not very likely to refrain from doing so merely because it is told such development would be bad for the world community If the global interest in avoiding the spread of nuclear weapons to more countries is to succeed conditions that make it in the interest of each individual nation to renounce nuclear weapons need to be created or maintained Fortunately conditions have prevailed in which the vast majority of nations have seen an advantage in making legally binding nonproliferation commitments An important rationale for many of these countries has been that these commitments would facilitate the transfer of desired civil nuclear technology Kosovo: A Precedent?
