Copyright Office, 1975 History After the Three Worlds Arif Dirlik, Vinay Bahl, Peter Gran, 2000 History as a discipline faces a crisis of identity as Eurocentrism fades in a world where globalized visions compete to explain historical processes Facing the challenge squarely this volume_ comprising specialists on Asia Africa and Latin America_ explores the state of historical analysis in various world regions and appraises current views on what defines and challenges historical knowledge It is widely accepted that Eurocentrism no longer seem acceptable in a world where others are reasserting their own notions of past and future The postDWorld War II spatialities that guided both historical analysis and the division of labor in historical work are in the process of disappearing into more globalized visions Constituencies left out of history in the past are making demands for the recognition of their historical presence History as epistemology is under attack as a marker of Eurocentric modernity from non historical ways of thinking as well as from ideologies of postmodernism that deny to history its claims to truth Indeed the current situation in the field has been described by one distinguished historian as a Ocacophonous confusion O The challenge historians face is how to imagine new ways of writing history that overcome this confusion without falling back upon ideological and methodological prejudices that reproduce the problems of the past in new guises The contributors discuss how these challenges are voiced and met in their different areas of specialization Unsurprising in a volume that addresses a variety of regions and issues that are not only technically historiographical but also deeply cultural and political the authors differ in their appraisal of the challenges presented by globalization postmodernism or postcolonialism Yet they are united in their recognition of the validity of historical ways of knowing and their reaffirmation of the importance of history in grasping contemporary cultural and political problems It is because history is entangled in a Eurocentric modernity that in a postmodern world it provides the medium for articulating alternatives to Eurocentrism_ and to history itself The Oration of Demosthenes in Answer to Aeschines Upon the Crown. and Combined Development Justin Rosenberg, Jack Brake, Tatiana Pignon, Lucas de Oliveira Paes, 2021-11-28 This book introduces Uneven and Combined Development as an approach in international studies and showcases some of the latest and most innovative research in this field. The theory of Uneven and Combined Development originated in the writings of Leon Trotsky. However, in recent years it has become the subject of flourishing literature in the discipline of International Relations due to its unique ability to reintegrate social and international theory. The first and second generations of this literature were focused upon retrieving the idea, expanding it into a social theory of the international, and applying it to numerous empirical cases such as the rise of political Islam, the causes of the First World War and the Bolshevik Revolution, and even the origins of capitalism as a world system. In the present volume, a third generation has arrived which further extends the reach of UCD, connecting it in new and exciting ways to such subjects as ecology, macro economic policy, culture, Science and Technology, Studies, Comparative Literature, and even science fiction. The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal the Cambridge Review of International Affairs.
