Garelli, 2016-06-27 Recent studies show that atheism is increasing The reasons for this development have not as yet been examined thoroughly Many atheists continue to be residual groups in surveys on religiosity making it difficult to examine who they are and why they have chosen to be atheists Moreover they are minority groups in most countries former Soviet bloc countries are left out of discussion many do not identify with any organized groups of atheists or agnostics Atheist groups and ideologies then represent a wide range of attitudes behaviour and ways of acting towards religion The lack of a clear definition of what being atheist or an unbeliever means today invites us to study the issue in greater depth This volume represents a first attempt at understanding and scrutinizing atheism Thanks to all contributors it provides both a global perspective and specific insights into specific cases Freedom of Religion and Religious Diversity Md Jahid Hossain

Religious Minorities and China Dr. Michael Dillon, 2001 The treatment of religious minorities in China regularly makes headlines in the West In recent years China's treatment of the Falungong and its policies in Tibet and to a lesser extent Xinjiang have attracted much comment but this is rarely informed by an understanding of how China's policies towards religious minorities as a whole have developed This new MRG Report

Religious Minorities and China fills that gap providing an authoritative overview of the major world religions in China Tibet and Xinjiang since 1949 The Report gives a history of the efforts of the Chinese Communist Party to control and during the Great Leap Forward and the Cultural Revolution to attack religious institutions It describes how since the Reform and Opening of 1978 onwards officially registered religious groups are tolerated and have some representation in a national forum Unofficial groups however are regarded as unpatriotic The Report focuses on Buddhism Christianity and Islam which the state considers synonymous with separatist movements and a threat to China's territorial integrity Tibet and Xinjiang with their Buddhist and Muslim populations respectively are contested territories and freedom of religion and association in these areas is particularly liable to suppression The Report also looks at the rise of the new religions focusing on the Falungong It concludes with a set of Recommendations urging China to implement the provisions of international standards on minority rights and freedom and to fulfil its obligations under the instruments to which it is party Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues
