Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa

Business Research Pieter W. Buys, Merwe Oberholzer, 2023-03-14 This book focuses on research methodologies that apply to business research particularly for researchers and managers embarking thereon to support managerial decision making in the industry In doing so the book's objective is to guide business researchers in identifying defining and applying rigorous academic methodologies that will enable them to formulate design and execute effective research that answers their specific management problems Such guidance can empower organizational managers to understand that business research can contribute to practical solutions to actual problems experienced in the industry In addition by emphasizing the integrative nature between 1 academic research and 2 experienced industry problems it becomes possible to foster an awareness of such research's potential impact on organizational performance management sustainability and resilience With that attention is given to narrowing the gap between theory and practice which requires that fundamentals of scientific research be adhered to while maintaining the delicate balance between a practice friendly guide to pragmatically sound and academically rigorous business research

Cyclones in Southern Africa Godwell Nhamo, Kaitano Dube, 2021-07-24 The subject of tropical cyclones in Southern Africa also known as hurricanes or typhoons in other regions of the world has been growing over the past few decades However there is still limited literature on foundational and fundamental topics on the matter To this end this book addresses this gap citing some examples from both historic and recent tropical cyclones The book presents meteorological and climatic aspects of tropical cyclones including reviews on forecasting warning message dissemination and public response aspects of early warning systems with a focus on the Tropical Cyclones Idai and Kenneth Fundamentals in disaster risk reduction DRR are also discussed moving from the provisions of the Hyogo Framework for Action 2005 2015 to the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015 2030 Climate change issues are central to the publication as well as the role of information and communication technologies in DRR and management The book also tackles some challenges and opportunities associated with the implementation of regional legal and institutional frameworks on DRR The book comes as part of a series with three volumes The other volumes include Cyclones in Southern Africa Vol 1 Interfacing the Catastrophic Impact of Cyclone Idai with SDGs in Zimbabwe and Cyclones in Southern Africa Vol 3 Implications for the Sustainable Development Goals To this end this book is suitable as a read for several professionals and disciplines such as tourism and hospitality studies economics sustainable development development studies environmental sciences arts geography life sciences politics planning and public health South Africa Yearbook ,2009
