The Irishman's Daughter V.S. Alexander,2022-02-22 Set in the wild romantic northwest coast of Ireland during the mid 19th century The Irishman's Daughter pits Briana her father and sister against a reckless English landlord and a plague that will kill and displace millions of Irish people Ireland 1845 To Briana Walsh no place on earth is more beautiful than Carrowteige County Mayo with its sloping fields and rocky cliffs perched above the wild Atlantic The small farms that surround the centuries old Lear House are managed by her father agent to the wealthy reckless Sir Thomas Blakely Tenant farmers sell the oats and rye they grow to pay rent to Sir Thomas surviving on the potatoes that flourish in the remaining scraps of land But when the potato crop falls prey to a devastating blight families Briana has known all her life are left with no food no resources and no mercy from the English landowner who seems indifferent to everything except profit Rory Caulfield the hard working young farmer Briana hopes to marry shares the locals despair and their anger There's talk of violent reprisals against the callous gentry and their agents Briana's studious older sister Lucinda dreams of a future far beyond Mayo But even as hunger and disease settle over the country killing and displacing millions Briana knows she must find a way to guide her family through one of Ireland's darkest hours toward hope love and a new beginning

When Walking Fails Lisa Iezzoni, 2003-06-10 Roughly one in ten adult Americans find their walking slowed by progressive chronic conditions like arthritis back problems heart and lung diseases and diabetes In this passionate and deeply informed book Lisa Iezzoni describes the personal experiences of and societal responses to adults whose mobility makes it difficult for them to live as they wish partly because of physical and emotional conditions and partly because of persisting societal and environmental barriers Basing her conclusions on personal experience a wealth of survey data and extensive interviews with dozens of people from a wide social spectrum Iezzoni explains who has mobility problems and why how mobility difficulties affect people's physical comfort attitudes daily activities and relationships with family and friends throughout their communities strategies for improving mobility and how the health care system addresses mobility difficulties providing and financing services and assistive technologies Iezzoni claims that although strategies exist to improve mobility many people do not know where to turn for advice She addresses the need to inform policymakers about areas where changes will better accommodate people with difficulty walking This straightforward and engaging narrative clearly demonstrates that improving people's ability to move freely and independently will enhance overall health and quality of life not only for these persons but also for society as a whole
