Digest of the Laws of the State of New York New York (State), Joseph D. Fay, 1876 Extradition Act 2003

Zachary Douglas, Joost Pauwelyn, Jorge E. Viñuales, 2014-05-01 International investment law is one of the fastest growing areas of international law It has led to the signing of thousands of agreements mostly in the form of investment contracts and bilateral investment treaties Also in the last two decades there has been an exponential growth in the number of disputes being resolved by investment arbitration tribunals Yet the legal principles at the basis of international investment law and arbitration remain in a state of flux Perhaps the best illustration of this phenomenon is the wide disagreement among investment tribunals on some of the core concepts underpinning the regime such as investment property regulatory powers scope of jurisdiction applicable law or the interactions with other areas of international law The purpose of this book is to revisit these conceptual foundations in order to shed light on the practice of international investment law It is an attempt to bridge the growing gap between the theory and the practice of this thriving area of international law The first part of the book focuses on the infrastructure of the investment regime or more specifically on the structural arrangements that have been developed to manage foreign investment transactions and the potential disputes arising from them The second part of the book identifies the common conceptual bases of an array of seemingly unconnected practical problems in order to clarify the main stakes and offer balanced solutions The third part addresses the main sources of regime stress as well as the main legal mechanisms available to manage such challenges to the operation of the regime Overall the book offers a thorough investigation of the conflicting theoretical positions underlying international investment law testing their worth by reference to concrete issues that have arisen in the jurisprudence It demonstrates that many of the most important practical questions arising in practice can be addressed by a carefully dosed resort to theory The Annotated Revised Statutes of the Peace Keeping in a Democratic Society Robin Eveleigh, 1978 Colonel Robin Eveleigh retired from the British Army in 1977 having commanded his infantry battalion on separate tours at the Springfield Road police station in Belfast in 1972 and 1973 it struck him forcibly at the time that the Government's overall campaign to restore a peacetime level of order in Northern Ireland seemed doomed to failure although most of the conditions that could be thought necessary for success skilled and sensitive politicians devoted civil servants and a disciplined army and police force were present This failure it became clear arose from faults in the constitutional framework for controlling the campaign against insurrection and from shortcomings in the laws which laid down the operational rules for the Security forces to suppress terrorism and disorder The constitutional faults meant that the government's campaign could not be managed effectively and the shortcomings in the laws meant that a heavy political price had to be paid for draconian legal powers that were almost irrelevant while the security forces were crippled by the lack of quite minor laws which would have made them effective and which carried only a modest political penalty The reasons for these uncertainties and inadequacies are complex Colonel Eveleigh analyses them ruthlessly and makes their consequences clear powerfully illustrating his thesis from personal experience in Northern Ireland from the past and from counter insurgency campaigns of recent times His remedies are argued in detail
