Saving Lady Ilsa:

Saving Lady Ilsa Crystal Kauffman,2013-04-01 Bradford Stratton needs a wife It isn't a tragic problem until one considers his disposition He'd rather spend his days and nights with his young lover Frederick But his father's gently put request that he marry is nothing short of an order and Bradford won't settle for a silly bit of fluff When he sees the beautiful Norwegian seamstress he makes his decision on the spot He has to have her even as he knows claiming her could destroy his relationship with Frederick Ilsa Bergstrom has endured all the abuse she can take from her late sister's cruel husband But a thirty year old childless woman in London's rough Whitechapel has few options for surviving on her own and after a horrific night of abuse at the hands of three men she'll never choose whoring as one of them Yet when handsome nobleman Bradford Stratton makes a scandalous proposition she accepts without hesitation Bradford proves to be a gentle and generous lover But Ilsa knows when something seems too good to be true it usually is

The Lampshade Mark Jacobson,2010-09-14 Few growing up in the aftermath of World War II will ever forget the horrifying reports that Nazi concentration camp doctors had removed the skin of prisoners to make common everyday lampshades In The Lampshade bestselling journalist Mark Jacobson tells the story of how he came into possession of one of these awful objects and of his search to establish the origin and larger meaning of what can only be described as an icon of terror Jacobson's mind bending historical moral and philosophical journey into the recent past and his own soul begins in Hurricane Katrina ravaged New Orleans It is only months after the storm with America's most romantic city still in tatters when Skip Henderson an old friend of Jacobson's purchases an item at a rummage sale a very strange looking and oddly textured lampshade When he asks what it's made of the seller a man covered with jailhouse tattoos replies That's made from the skin of Jews The price 35 A few days later Henderson sends the lampshade to Jacobson saying You're the journalist you find out what it is The lampshade couldn't possibly be real could it But it is DNA analysis proves it This revelation sends Jacobson halfway around the world to Yad Vashem in Jerusalem and to the Buchenwald concentration camp in Germany where the lampshades were supposedly made on the order of the infamous Bitch of Buchenwald Ilse Koch From the time he grew up in Queens New York in the 1950s Jacobson has heard stories about the human skin lampshade and knew it to be the ultimate symbol of Nazi cruelty Now he has one of these things in his house with a DNA report to prove it and almost everything he finds out about it is contradictory mysterious shot through with legend and specious information Through interviews with forensic experts famous Holocaust scholars and deniers Buchenwald survivors and liberators and New Orleans thieves and cops Jacobson gradually comes to see the lampshade as a ghostly illuminator of his own existential status as a Jew and to understand exactly what that means in the context of human responsibility One question looms as his search goes on what to do with the lampshade this unsettling thing that used to be someone It is a difficult dilemma to be sure but far from the last one since once a lampshade of human skin enters your life it is very very hard to forget

Morte d Arthur to scholarly theses on the true origin of King Arthur This series is without a doubt the BEST Every book I read by Tracy Cooper Posey is like an intricate puzzle piece It s beautiful and unique on its own but when you study it from different angles you find out it s just a piece of the bigger picture and this author gets the pieces to click into place in the most interesting and unpredictable ways I love that I learn new things from reading one of Cooper Posey s books while at the same time experience action adventure and romance and not that stupid love at first sight everything works out the way we want romance either She writes earthy emotionally charged realistic love stories ABSOLUTELY beautiful story The characters are so well written you feel like you are in the middle of their world interacting with them on a personal level OMG I love this story it s a grand classic of historical romance Oh how I d love to see this as a movie Tracy just nailed it once again I loved this one so much I spent the entire book telling myself to slow down and savor the tale and also not being able to put the book down What a great book It s not a short book but reads like one The dialogue moves the plot the action moves the plot even the narrative does not waste a single word I read the book twice because I liked it so much This is a wonderful book OMG I didn t want this one to end 3000 pages might ve been enough I haven t stopped thinking about this book since i finished it last week wondering what else might have gone on in their lives Any time my husband was trying to get my attention while reading this novel I told him I can t help it I m over a 1 000 years away falling in love with a king and making friends with the Lady of the Lake This series puts Tracy Cooper Posey up there with the great Arthurian writers like Stewart and Bradley Her vivid descriptions and historical snippets add so much to an already great story that I could not put it down

The Divine Circle Of Ladies Making Mischief Dolores Stewart Riccio,2005 Transporting readers once again into the enchanting world of Cass Shipton and her circle of friends in idyllic Plymouth Massachusetts this is Dolores Stewart Riccio s richest most satisfying novel yet The Pirate's Lady Julia Knight,2013-04-15 There s a price on privateer Van Gast s head So high that Van is tempted to turn himself in for the reward then escape with it Escaping with full pockets is what he does best He managed to steal a ship a bride a dowry a diamond the size of a fist and then disappear without a trace But this time he can t go very far The woman of his dreams his Josie has stolen his ship and is leading him on a merry chase dangerously close to Estovan the one place Van Gast should steer clear of 89 000 words Gestohlen Raymond Henry,2023-09-08 About the Book Peter a classically trained musician has fallen from grace due to numerous scandals during his tenure as a music teacher and concert pianist for the prestigious Berliner Hochschule F r Musik Beethoven has been his life long obsession and may be the reason his life has taken a dark turn Like Beethoven Peter too is easily infatuated with charming talented women which borders on obsession His infatuation stems from his own need to be useful and to educate the deserving on the fascinating world of classical music in the hope that they may see the world as he does which is impossible due to a condition known as synaesthesia During his time at the Conservatory a replica of Beethoven s famous Broadwood piano under restoration goes missing Gestohlen Although absolved of any guilt his is nevertheless seen as the responsible party due to his gross negligence which leaves his career in ruins He knows a great deal more about the replica than meets the eye but the piano is not in his possession He is not interested in the replica he is obsessed with the authentic Beethoven Broadwood gifted to Beethoven himself by the Broadwood Piano Manufacturers in London in 1818 He aims to use the replica to obtain the objects of his obsessions but he must secure the imposter first before making his play Which is which Facts and fiction become obfuscated An intriguing sampling of Beethoven s work is featured in the story as well as other Baroque and Classical composers such as Bach Vivaldi Haydn Liszt Schubert and more although one does not have to be a musician to enjoy the story About the Author Raymond Henry recently moved back to San Diego California after having lived and worked in Spain for over fifteen years where his son and daughter currently reside In fact he wrote most of this book while in Spain He worked for an international company as a language consultant He has also travelled extensively throughout Europe and has a special affinity toward Germany due to the professional and personal relationships he has established through the years He speaks German reasonably well and dabbles in Portuguese Before moving to Spain all those years ago Raymond lived in Orange County California teaching AP Spanish AP Economics and International Relations Language and culture have always been an important part of his life Nowadays in San Diego he currently works for a small enterprise on various projects although writing is his obsession He still enjoys tutoring high school and university students in his free time as well as attending the symphony nat rlich
